Campbell Continues His Wonderful Campaign.

Galion, Mansfield, Ashland, Ravenna, Kent, Akron.

Such is the Work Done by Him Yesterday.

Cheered on the Way by Enthusiastic Thousands.

His Tariff Arguments Find Ready Hearers Among the Farmers Who Have Been Taxed Until They Cry for Relief

Akron, O., Oct. 27.—Yesterday was another of Gov. Campbell's busy days. He left Columbus at 10 o'clock and the first stop was at Galion. The meeting at that place had been arranged on two hours' notice, yet there were fully 1,000 people at the station to meet him and the large Public square was packed when he made a speech of ten minutes' length.

From Galion to Mansfield was a short run and there was a large crowd at the station. It was expected that Gov. Campbell would leave the train there and go up town where there were a large number of people gathered to hear a speech but the running of the train would not permit this and he was placed on a box at the station.

The train was held for 20 minutes and he made one of his happy speeches to fully 2,000 people.

The failure of the governor to get up street was a great disappointment to the people of Mansfield. They had chartered a special train to run to Ashland and wanted him to wait and go on that, but the Ashland committee was aboard the train and would not listen to any such arrangement. They said they had a large audience at Ashland awaiting his coming and the Mansfield people had to be content with the short speech.

When the train arrived at Ashland there was a great mass of humanity surging about the station and when the governor made his appearance on the platform he was greeted with round after round of applause.

So great was the crowd that it was impossible to form the procession and it was divided and passed up separate streets in order that those participating in it might be able to reach the court house yard in time to hear the speech.

The audience was a magnificent one, eclipsing anything of the kind ever attempted in Ashland county. Without wasting any time the governor was introduced and soon had the people interested in the tariff and other questions. There were fully 8,000 people about the stand while the governor was talking.

"If there are any people in Ashland county who are not at this meeting," said the governor, "they are probably some of our republican friends who are at home on the anxious seat. (Applause.) They ought to be here at the altar."

The governor then took up the tariff question and said: "There is not a workingman, woman or child in this county who is benefited by a single penny's worth by the republican policy of a high tax. I was about to say there was not a protected industry in the county, but I believe you do raise the protected sheep here. (Cheers.) The higher the tariff the lower the price of wool. (Applause and cries of 'That's right, governor.')

"A gentleman by the name of Foster—you have all heard of Charles—was here last week, and I am told that he made quite an effort to show that high taxes are good for you. But I will warrant that Charles didn't say anything about the manner in which your farms have depreciated $1,883,666 in value during the past ten years. That is the exact amount the farmers of Ashland county have lost during 10 years of a 47 per cent. tariff. Now Charles and his party propose to help you out of your rut by going through the next 10 years with a tariff of 60 per cent. (Applause.) The lower the farm lands the higher the tariff. (Cheers.)

"It's the wool question over again. Sometimes Major McKinley says he puts on the tax to make things cheap; at other times he says he puts on the tax to keep out foreign products and make things higher. (Applause.) Between these two remarkable extremes in Major McKinley's campaigning he puts in a little time telling the people that Gov. Campbell is reckless in his statements." (Applause.)

After Gov. Campbell had finished speaking Hon. M. D. Harter was introduced and the large audience remained to hear him discuss the iniquities of McKinleyism. Gov. Campbell and party took a special train on the Erie road and the start for Ravenna was made.

The special consisted of an engine and one coach, and the engineer had a clear track to Akron. He made a remarkable run and covered the distance, 73 miles, in 1 hour and 17 minutes. A short stop was made at Kent, and the people there heard that the governor was coming and there were a couple of hundred at the station. Before his train had left they exacted a promise from him that he would stop on his way back and make a speech.

At Ravenna there was another immense throng at the station when his train pulled in. There was a procession and the governor was escorted to the skating rink, which accommodates about 2,500 people. The building was crowded to suffocation and hundreds were unable to get inside or within hearing distance. On the way to the rink the streets were lined with people and the governor was given a royal welcome.

One remarkable feature of the Ravenna meeting was its length. The people had come in to town from miles around expecting the governor to reach there earlier in the afternoon. When a telegram was received announcing that the governor would not reach there until 5 o'clock in the evening they decided to stay until 5 o'clock in the evening. They decided to stick out and see and hear him.

Congressman Tom Johnson, Judge E. J. Blandin and L. A. Russell, of Cleveland, were on hand, and each of these gentlemen made an able speech.

The meeting began shortly after 1 o'clock and it was after 6 when Gov. Campbell closed his speech and the audience left. Even then they called to the governor to go on, but he was obliged to leave in order to catch the train for Akron.

The spectacle of a political meeting opening at such an early hour and lasting until 6 o'clock is rather novel for this section of Ohio. Another significant feature of the meeting was the large number of farmers present. Hon. D. Coolman presided and introduced Gov. Campbell.

"They are taxing you pretty hard this week," said a sympathizing democrat as Gov. Campbell ascended the platform.

"Yes," was the quick response, "but they are not taxing me near so hard as McKinley is taxing you fellows."

This put the crowd about the governor in good humor, and when he was introduced and began his speech it was some time before he could make himself heard, so enthusiastic were the auditors. The governor opened his speech by telling reference to the oatmeal and glass industries of Ravenna. Since the passage of the McKinley law the oatmeal establishment at Ravenna joined the trust and cut down the wages of its employes. In a few days the establishment expects to shut down in order to limit production. The glassmakers have suspended operations since the passage of the bill and a large number of employes were thrown out of work. The governor utilized these points in giving one of his happy object lessons on the tariff. Referring to the glass factory he said:

"I noticed the tall chimney, which reminded me strongly of the tall tariff on glass. But I also noticed that there was no smoke coming out of that chimney. When I asked the reason for this I was given a very plausible answer. They said that there was no smoke because there was no fire. That glass factory was all chimney and tariff."

The governor then presented the figures showing the depreciation in the value of farm lands in Portage county. He said he didn't care how much they howled "calamity croaker" at him, he intended to show these figures to the farmers of every community he visited before election.

"I am going to stop off at Kent," he said, "to do a little croaking, and from there I am going to Akron to croak a good deal."

After the meeting the governor had a little time and took a bite of supper, and from there went to Kent. Notwithstanding the people of Kent had less than two hours' notice they had cannon booming and fully 2,000 people at the station to meet the governor. When McKinley passed through that place the fact that he would stop off and make a speech had been advertised for fully two weeks, yet people who witnessed both meetings declared that Governor Campbell's crowd far outnumbered that which greeted the advocate of high taxes.

At Akron Gov. Campbell was greeted with a tremendous crowd and his speech was happy and well received.

After the meeting he left for Columbus and will open his campaign in the Hocking valley to-day.

SQUEEZED TO DEATH.

A Young Lady Met a Terrible Fate in the Woods Near Her Home.

Lynchburg, Va., Oct. 27.—Miss Likens, who resides near Shawsville, Montgomery county, met a terrible death recently. She went out to gather berries on the mountain side and not returning in a seasonable time search was instituted for her.

A few miles from her home the searchers ran across a large bear, at whose feet the outlines of a woman could be indistinctly observed. The bear was dispatched and it was then found that bruin's victim was Miss Likens.

The body was terrible mutilated and every evidence went to show that the unfortunate girl had first been squeezed to death by the bear and then partly devoured.

He has been engaged in several different enterprises and has been always successful. He leaves a wife and daughter.

IN THE HOCKING VALLEY.

Governor Campbell Among the Miners.

Great Crowds Turn Out to Hear Him Speak.

The Tariff and the Iniquitous Burdens Imposed Upon the People by McKinleyism Placed Before His Auditors

Corning, O., Oct. 27.—(Special)—Gov. Campbell made six speeches yesterday, arrived at Columbus at 4 o'clock this morning, and at half past seven boarded a train for a run down the Hocking valley. At each station there was a crowd to meet him and cheer him on his way.

The first stop for a meeting was at Corning. There was a large crowd and a band at the station and the governor was escorted to the opera house. The meeting was composed entirely of miners, railroad employes and other workingmen.

It was an attentive audience and the governor's hard blows at the McKinley tariff were appreciated and vigorously applauded.

The governor asked his audience if any of them felt that they were being protected, and, if they did, to be so kind as to name the way he was protected. On the contray, he said, the effect of the McKinley law was to give special privileges to the few and ignore the interest of the many. The governor left Corning at 11:45 and the next stop was at Gloucester, another small mining town.

At Gloucester.

At half past twelve o'clock the train reached Gloucester, another mining town. There were two bands and another crowd of people.

The governor was escorted to a stand which had been erected near the station and made another speech to miners and laborers who had assembled.

After the meeting at this place the governor and party left for Nelsonville, and other points down the valley.

The Pottery Bosses Are After His Scalp.

Three Thousand Dollars Added to the Corruption Fund by East Liverpool Industries.

East Liverpool, Oct. 27.—The fat frying process was applied to the pottery manufacturers in this city on Saturday and the Macedonian cry for help from the republican state committee was responded to liberally. At a meeting of the association of manufacturers it was voted to assess a tax of $25 on each kiln. The money, aggregating nearly $3,000, was promptly paid and forwarded to the headquarters in Columbus.

OUR FOREIGN COMMERCE

Analysis of Statistics for Two Years.

Effect of the McKinley Bill Shown in Trade.

There Has Been No Increase in Business, But the Administrative Act Has Caused Some Changes to Appear on the Books.

Washington, Oct. 27.—Philosopher Brock, of Missouri, who is wabbling around in the chair formerly occupied by Colonel Switzler, of Missouri, as chief of the bureau of statistics of the treasury department, is doing his best, by means of various publications, to convince the country that the McKinley tariff has been a blessing to the people, but in spite of the horn-blowing of the friends of the McKinley tariff over its alleged effect in increasing our foreign trade the full returns of our imports and exports show that trade has really fallen off.

These returns show that there has been no real increase in imports; that the increase in exports is obviously not due to the tariff, and that the tariff has failed in many cases to shut out imports where it was intended to do it.

The figures for the eight months ending August 31, for the two years 1890 and 1891, show some interesting comparisons. The apparent increase in imports is $15,553,275, the figures for eight months in 1890 being $549,887,296 and those for 1891 being $565,640,571. This increase of itself is barely more than the growth of the country in population, at the rate of about 2 1-2 per cent. a year, would call for, without any increase in the proportionate volume of trade.

The seeming increase, however, is wholly fictitious. There would be no increase at all if it were not for the administrative tariff act, which provided that after August 1, 1890, the value of foreign goods should be made to include the value of the coverings.

This calculation of the value of coverings was not made under the tariff of 1883, and as a result the apparent value of our imports fell off $55,000,000 from 1883 to 1884, although the falling off in real value and in the volume of imports was small, if there was any falling off at all.

For the seven years which followed the enactment of the tariff of 1883 the annual reports of the bureau of statistics of the treasury contained a paragraph calling attention to the change in the mode of computing values and stating that it "should be considered in any comparison made between the official value of imports of merchandise for years prior to July 1, 1883, and for years subsequent to that date."

This change in the method of computing the value of imports is estimated to make a difference of 10 per cent., and upon that basis the real value of imports has fallen off in eight months from $604,876,025 in 1890 to $565,640,571 in 1891.

Even if the actual values of imports were set forth upon the same basis for both 1890 and 1891, and the small increase which is set forth were a real one, there would be little to the credit of the McKinley tariff in the increase.

The rushing in of tin-plate accounts for an increase of $8,667,475, block tin for an increase of $1,147,306, hides and skins for an increase of $1,626,165, India rubber and gutta percha for an increase of $881,707 and silver ores for an increase of $1,129,944.

These increases nearly account for the entire increase claimed and leave a big margin for shrinkage in other items on account of the coverings clause.

The rushing in of tin and tin-plate is just what the McKinley tariff was framed to prevent. Hides and India rubber have been free of duty for years, and increased imports of silver are the natural results of the silver-inflation legislation of congress.

The big increase in the importation of goods free of duty, which has amounted in eight months to $102,744,514, is only partly the result of McKinleyism. The imports of free sugar amount to $65,485,214, exclusive of that from the Sandwich islands, and the imports of free textile grasses amount to $14,225,339.

These are the happy fruits of the "free trade" features of the McKinley bill; but the increase in coffee and in hides and skins is due to the normal growth of business, for they were free of duty long before McKinleyism was thought of.

These items cover almost the whole of the increase in imports of free articles.

The McKinley bill was framed in accordance with the declaration of the republican national platform to check imports in articles which might be produced by our people. Its success in this direction has been decidedly incomplete. Major McKinley is finding that out from the wool-growers of Ohio, who want to know why, in spite of increased duties, imports of wools have leaped from $3,638,823 in eight months of 1890 to $6,558,269 in eight months of 1891.

Major McKinley's petted china and earthenware industries at East Liverpool, O., may also question the efficacy of high duties when they discover that imports of earthen, stone and chinaware have advanced in eight months from $4,640,769 in 1890 to $5,469,831 in 1891, and that imports of glassware have advanced in the same time from $5,095,155 to $5,539,083.

There has probably been no real increase in imports in either of these classes of goods, for the increased value might easily come from the effects of the coverings clause; but apparently there has been no serious falling off in imports.

American glove manufacturers may also object that McKinleyism has failed of its object if they seriously expected to shut out foreign gloves, for the imports of eight months show an advance from $4,085,655 in 1890, to $4,312,215 in 1891.

McKinleyism has been more successful in stifling foreign trade in such articles as tobacco, dress goods and hosiery. The imports of tobacco for eight months have fallen from $13,328,671 in 1890, to $5,090,222 in 1891. The imports of women's dress goods have dropped from $18,900,158 to $11,519,374. The imports of yarns from $1,080,810 to $495,405, and the imports of cotton hosiery and other knit goods from $6,102,647 to $3,892,599.

These figures show that prohibitory duties have accomplished their purpose in a few cases, but that the policy of prohibition was not very intelligently worked out in the McKinley bill.

The increase in exports during the past year has been so obviously unconnected with the tariff that the question does not admit of argument. The principal increase has been from $97,404,821 to $134,647,687 in the exports of raw cotton for the eight months of 1890 and 1891.

If the tariff affected this matter at all the McKinley policy would be to keep our cotton at home to be manufactured by our domestic mills. Equally disconnected with tariff causes has been the increase in exports of wheat from $30,435,934 in eight months of 1890 to $63,768,365 in the same months of 1891.

The increases in raw cotton and wheat make up most of the net increase in all our exports, and indicate that McKinleyism has done nothing worth counting for the development of our foreign trade. About the only visible effects of reciprocity are small increases in our exports of locomotives, machinery and manufactured leather.

SENECA COUNTY IN LINE.

A Great Victory Will Be Won Next Week.

With Right on the Side of Democracy the Enemies of the Home and of the Wage-Worker Will Be Routed.

Tiffin, O., Oct. 27.—(Special)—The democracy of Seneca county is in excellent shape. With an exceptionally strong local ticket in the field, with the party harmonious and in line against the enemy of the homes and firesides of the people, with a cause that every honest man must admit is just, it is believed that old Seneca will achieve a greater victory on the 3d of November than ever before.

The republicans have abandoned their entire county ticket, except their candidate for auditor, and are concentrating their forces and all the boodle that has been slipped in by the dispensers of the manufacturers' contributions, to defeat John Ehrenfried, one of the best democrats in the county, an honest man and one in every way qualified for the duties of the position to which he has been called by his party.

However, there is no fear that the republicans will be successful in the disgraceful campaign they are waging.

It is barely possible that there may be some trouble in their own ranks over conducting the campaign in the interest of a single candidate for a county office and paying the expenses of the same out of the money fried from the other candidates and that received from the state committee to be used in the interest of McKinley and John Sherman. Seneca is all right and assures our gallant governor that he may rely on from one thousand to twelve hundred majority.

THE BLOCK SYSTEM.

The New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio Road will Put It In Operation.

Meadville, Pa., Oct. 27.—The New York, Pennsylvania and Ohio railroad has decided to run their road under the block system, the same as the Pennsylvania. The road is to be divided into four divisions for dispatchers, form Salamanca to Corry; Corry to Meadville; Meadville to Pymatuning, and from Pymatuning to Kent.

Two additional sets of train dispatchers will be required, the business being done from the Meadville office. Twenty-six additional telegraph operators will be required and 37 elevated signal towers will be built.

WARNER IN TIFFIN.

Tiffin, Oct. 27.—Hon. William C. Warner, a representative of the New York Reform club, addressed an audience in this city last Saturday evening which taxed the seating capacity of the opera house. Mr. Warner is a forcible, eloquent speaker, and no political address delivered in Tiffin for years has been so highly complimented by the general public as is the effort of this distinguished gentleman from the Empire state.

SUICIDE MOST HORRIBLE.

A Young Man Crawls Into a Live Furnace.

Terribly Burned When He Was Dragged Out by the Engineer a Few Seconds Afterwards.

Fostoria, O., Oct. 27.—(Special)—Ralph Cunningham, a well known young man of our city, employed at the Cunningham & Co. spoke factory, attempted suicide in a most terrible manner late yesterday afternoon. The engineer, Nick Keibel, left him standing near the factory furnace for a short space of time, and when he returned he made the horrible discovery that young Cunningham had deliberately crawled into the furnace and lay there roasting to death.

He was almost out of reach, but Keibel got him out after he was horribly burned to below the knees.

The flesh bursts open in places and the skin comes off in great rolls. Though he is conscious he is so badly burned that it will be impossible for him to recover. No cause is yet assigned for the awful deed, though it is thought that ill-health has unbalanced his mind.

DOWN WITH CASH.

How Republicans Expect to Elect McKinley.

Manufacturers Working Under Protection

Cut Down the Wages of the Men Who Toil

And Donate the Dollars to a Campaign Fund.

An Attempt to be Made to Hire Democrats to "Go Fishing" on Election Day, or do Anything that Will Keep Them Away from the Polls.

Columbus, Oct. 27.—(Special)—The gentleman through whom the vast sum of money was raised in Pittsburg for the benefit of the McKinley campaign fund was Mr. Mark Hanna of Cleveland. The list of contributors published recently was only for the second installment. Major McKinley laid the ground-work for the raising of the money when he held his first reception in Pittsburg.

Then Mr. Mark Hanna, the wealthy and protected iron dealer, went on to collect. He was successful beyond measure.

Many of the iron and steel manufacturers contributed double the amount they were credited with. Carnegie and his allied interests subscribed what would be a fortune to an average citizen. Instead of Mr. Carnegie giving the profits of one day's work, being $5,000, he has given into the Ohio campaign fund the profits of five days' work, which are $25,000.

Upon contributing so heavily to the republican fund, he immediately made arrangements to get it back, however, by reducing the wages of his men in the iron mills from 13 to 60 per cent.

Up at Homestead, one of Carnegie's men, when he heard how much he had given to the campaign fund, said: "No wonder he has reduced our wages 13 to 60 per cent, when he makes such contributions to the McKinley corruption fund."

Mark Hanna paid a second visit to Pittsburg and he procured the following additional subscriptions:

Spray Iron & Steel Co	$ 500 00
Spray, Chalfee & Co	3,000 00
Isabella Furnace Co	2,500 00
Currie Furnace Co	1,500 00
Laughlins & Co	1,000 00
Singer, Niswich & Co	2,000 00
National Tube Works, now Boston Iron & Steel Co	2,500 00
Total	$13,000 00

Not content with two or three visits, Mr. Hanna was in the city of Pittsburg three or four days last week and was very energetic in his efforts to raise additional sums of money.

The United States Iron and Tin Plate company, while grateful to McKinley, is composed largely of Germans who are rather careful of their money, as several fortunes were sunk in their efforts to establish a tin plate factory. They refused to contribute to the McKinley fund until they saw some tangible evidence of tin making with a profit.

It is reported from a reliable source that several window glass manufacturers contributed $100 each and that the United States Glass company contributed $200 each for their fifteen plants, a total of $6,000. This would make about $10,000 extracted from the glass works.

The Pittsburg Plate Glass company gave $1,000, the Howard Plate Glass company gave $500 and Irwin & Charlevis Plate Glass company $3,500.

All together the protected city of Pittsburg and its environments have given to the McKinley campaign fund not a cent less than $100,000. This information comes from the donors themselves.

The question is, "To what uses have this vast sum been applied and how much more blood money has been wrung from the other protected interests of the country and from federal and state office holders?"

With the Australian system of ballots the money of the wealth-hording few cannot be used; nor can the bosses in the great factories stand in front of the polls and hand their workman a republican ticket and watch him until he puts it in the ballot box.

Then what is this vast sum of money for?

True, much of it has been spent in manufacturing enthusiasm for McKinley, in hiring brass bands and burning red fire. But there is a large sum of money yet to be spent, and this money will be put into use on election day.

The plan was suggested by eastern republican politicians and has been made ready for operation in all the large cities of the state, especially Toledo and Cincinnati.

The plan is nothing less than an open attempt to hire democrats to stay at home.

If they get to the polls McKinleyism is doomed. Democrats between now and election day will be accosted in all manner of ways, and big inducements offered them to remain away from the polls on Nov. 3.

Workingman, consider the facts. Can you, as a man with family and with the security of a home resting on your shoulders, afford to allow Wm. McKinley to be elected?

Can it possibly be to your interest to cast a vote for a principle, the beneficiaries of which can give a hundred thousand dollars to the Ohio republican campaign, because that party has enacted laws which made trusts and combines possible, and thereby made it possible for the employer to cut down the wages of his employe?

In other words, it is a vote for a system that not only taxes everything the workingman has to use, but it taxes his earnings as well, and the man who carries the tin pail pays for the brass bands that greet McKinley in his march through the state.

THE SEAL INDUSTRY.

London, Oct. 27.—Lord Knutsford, secretary of state for the colonies, has requested the governments of the Australian colonies to supply the Canadian government with statistical reports in regard to the decline of the fur seal fisheries of the southern hemisphere. These statistics are wanted for use by the British commoners in connection with the Behring sea negotiations.

BAGGED THE GAME.

A Bold Gang of Incendiaries Arrested.

The Mystery of the Dupont Fires Explained.

A Discharged Employe at the Bottom of the Deeds,

Which Have Cost a Score of Lives in Two Years.

Clever Work by a Detachment of Detectives Who Have Been Working on the Case for Many Weary Months.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 27.—The greatest excitement prevails in this city over the arrest of the three people concerned in the plot against the firm of E. J. Dupont & Co., the powder manufacturers, which culminated a year ago in the blowing up of the great powder plant of the company, and in the loss of 15 lives thereby.

The three prisoners are Edward Clark, Mary Clark, his wife, and Joseph Clark, their 15-year-old son. They are held under $45,000 bail to answer to the charge of destroying the property of the Duponts.

For two years the Duponts and their vast local interests have been practically at the mercy of a gang of fire-bugs. The incendiaries left behind them a trail which clearly indicated that the destroyed buildings had each been purposely fired.

Within a period of two years this gang has destroyed over $250,000 worth of property and are doubtless responsible for the loss of more than a dozen lives and the breaking up of half a hundred homes.

For eighteen months the Duponts have had detectives on the alert night and day, but despite their vigilance the work of destruction went on, until the force of guards was so strong about the property marked for the torch that the fire fiends were stayed from the full consummation of their purpose.

There has been no destruction wrought since last November, owing to the strong guard, and the fearful and terrifying depredation had been partially forgotten, when the arrest of the Clarks was made and created a tremendous sensation.

Others of the conspirators are under surveillance. It is rumored that two fellow-conspirators have been arrested in Philadelphia.

The incendiary crimes began in 1889 with the burning of a huge barn belonging to the firm the night after Christmas. The loss was $25,000.

Another barn was burned, with 10 horses and 17 cows, January 21, 1890.

This was followed by the burning of two other barns with their contents, including live stock.

About a year ago occurred the explosion of five powder houses. Fifteen men were killed and thirty or more injured, while 60 homes were wrecked. Other buildings for miles around were damaged.

Although the mills were so constructed that one could not be fired from the explosion of another, they went off almost simultaneously. As if to further emphasize the hatred and vengeance of the perpetrators of this shocking crime, and to further exploit it, this explosion was timed for the evening of a sumptuous reception given in honor of the pretty bride of Edward Dupont, jr.

He was a junior member of the firm, and married an Irish girl who had won fame as a barmaid in a prominent Queenstown hotel much frequented by Americans.

The great preparations made for her reception caused a relaxation of the vigilance maintained about the buildings.

Less than a month afterward the community of employes of the Dupont mills on the Brandywine, an offshoot of the Delaware river, was terrified by the burning of the fifth barn, showing that the incendiaries were still at work.

The offering of a large reward and the posting of a large force of detectives checked the work of destruction. Other detectives were set to ferreting out the criminals, and they came to the conclusion that the revenge of some discharged workman was at the bottom of it.

Suspicion after a time was directed toward Edward Clark, a surly fellow, who had been employed by the firm for 21 years and had then been discharged.

Four detectives were set to work upon him. William Wilkinson, the first to arrive upon the scene, soon had the unsuspecting Clark well in hand, and induced him to join him and his partner, a second detective named Lynch, in the hotel business.

Clark was to be proprietor of the house, and Lynch, who represented himself as a moonshiner from Alabama fleeing from justice to escape punishment for having shot to death a United States marshal, was to furnish the money.

Lynch had plenty of money and the bait took. After some dickering the two detectives bought for cash the Columbus Inn, a rural hostelry just outside the city, overlooking the Dupont properties.

No expense was spared to make the place attractive. Soon the two were successfully established in the hostelry. Soon after a third detective named Barton appeared at this hotel in quest of a quiet home and in a short time was taken sick, alleging his affliction to be the return of a mental trouble.

Barton needed the quietude of a cheerful retreat and the companionship of Clark.

He made a proffer of big pay for Clark's services as attendant and the two partners, declaring their ability to conduct the hotel, the pretending patient had the pleasure of Clark's company at an asylum on the Hudson river in New York.

They were joined by Mrs. Barton, who seemed to have a mania for fires and explosions and talked continually of the Duponts and their property, and expressed a wish to see a "jolly blow-up."

Mrs. Clark joined the party and clever Mrs. Barton soon had her in her power. Between the two detectives they got admissions enough from the Clarks to make them feel justified in the arrests.

The feeling against the prisoners runs high. The maimed fathers and brothers whose income was cut off by the explosion and the widows and orphans of those who were killed spare no words in denouncing the Clarks and praying that they may be summarily dealt with. The prisoners stoutly deny any knowledge of the conspiracy, but the detectives say they have a complete story against them.

Pain from indigestion, dyspepsia and too hearty eating, is relieved at once by taking one of Carter's Little Liver Pills immediately after dinner. Don't forget this.

A few months ago, the Nogan, a Volapuk journal published in Antwerp, Belgium, gave a list of persons in nearly every country in the world who wished to correspond in that language. The names of some half dozen Chinese appeared among the rest, and out of curiosity an enthusiastic Volapukist of New York wrote to one of them asking what prospect the new international language had of gaining adherents in the "Flowery Kingdom." A reply was recently received, of which the following is a translation: "Esteemed Sir—In reply to yours of June 27, let me say that Volapuk is far easier than the Chinese language, and when this universal speech is in common use among Europeans and Americans many Chinese will learn it very quickly. But how can we talk with each other if the Americans prevent the Chinese from going to America? With greetings, Chun Mun. Tamsui, August 21, 1891."

THAT STONE ROAD.

Figuring Suspended Until the Election Passes Away.

The Central avenue stone road investigation is an exceedingly large and prickly thorn in the official side of County Commissioner Englehardt.

It has been over three months since the information was filed by taxpayers that all was not straight in the construction of the road.

From that day to this the commissioners have been dragging the matter, putting forth every effort possible to delay proceedings.

This could have been consummated and results made known in three weeks had the commissioners desired it.

Now that the work is complete, within a day's effort, the public is inquiring why the situation is not made known.

A Bee met County Surveyor Wilhelm yesterday, and the following conversation took place:

"Mr. Wilhelm, when are you going to file a report in the stone road matter?"

"I don't know. When the commissioners will be ready."

"How near is the work complete?"

"All done but section 12, and it will take about five days to finish that."

Engineer Bodette informed a Bee over a week ago that the job could be completed in a day, but for some reason or other it was delayed, and he believed it was done by the commissioners for a purpose.

"It looks like a political scheme," said he. "I wouldn't charge that, but it looks like it to me."

A Bee inquired of Commissioner Englehardt yesterday when the report would be made. He replied:

"The engineers will file their report as soon as they get ready. They are acting under original instructions. We have nothing to do with them."

So the engineers are acting under original instructions? Well, most anybody could guess what those instructions were.

MILL MEN'S LAMENT.

They Must Have Gas or Else Leave the City.

The Gas Trustees Reticent on the Matter—Brief Business Meeting Last Evening—More Contracts Let.

Messrs. Parsons, Jones and Greene were the only members of the board of gas trustees present at last evening's meeting. The admission by Dr. Jones that the pressure had been so reduced that the city was unable to supply large consumers came somewhat as a surprise to many. That the trustees have decided to cut off the gas from the Maumee rolling mills is evident.

There were present a large number of Maumee rolling mills employes. President H. S. Walbridge and Mr. S. C. Reynolds were also present.

Thos. J. Rowley, chairman of the delegation of employes, stated that he spoke for 600 employes of the rolling mills and citizens of the East Side. In their behalf he asked why the contract between the gas trustees and the rolling mills company had been annulled, and furthermore, why it could not be carried out.

Mr. George Scheets said he agreed with what Mr. Rowley had said. The people of the East Side were anxious to see the mills supplied with gas.

Wm. Godfrey said about 2,100 people were depending on the mills for support. If gas was cut off it would make it necessary for these people to seek employment elsewhere.

W. J. Gill indorsed what had been said by the previous speakers, and asked the board to give the matter serious consideration. The Sixth ward had taken a great deal of interest in the pipe line fight, and they desired that the East Side get its share of the reward.

H. S. Walbridge said he did not know that he had anything to add to what had been said. The mills were owned and operated by citizens of Toledo. All he asked was that the contracts entered into be carried out.

Mr. S. C. Reynolds said they asked for gas and expected to get it as long as there was gas to be supplied. At least four of the trustees had stated there was plenty of gas, and the mills wanted the gas just as long as it was for sale.

Dr. Jones said he had told the committee last Saturday that the reason the gas was cut off from the mills was that the city had not the gas to supply. He doubted if the city, cutting off all consumers, could supply gas through the winter. It would be well for the employes to seek employment elsewhere if they relied on employment on the supply of gas.

Dr. Jones then read a lengthy paper giving the reason why gas could not be given the rolling mills. The field is being drained by the Standard Oil company to Fostoria, Detroit and other points. He pointed out that the tactics of the Standard in duplicating the city's wells had weakened the yield to such an extent that the Standard company found it necessary to reinforce its present mains by a six-inch line from the Gibsonburg field.

He suggested that the manufacturers go to work and build a line which at a cost of $125,000 would supply the manufacturers of the city. He said gas was self-producing, and all the wells needed was a little rest. The people, he said, would have plenty of gas for private consumption during the coming winter.

Mr. Greene said the field pressure was such that it was impossible to furnish high pressure lines within the city. The pressure was continually decreasing.

Mr. Parsons said the board would take the matter under consideration. The board would meet to-morrow and send an answer to the committee and the company.

The matter was thus disposed of, and the committee will get an answer to-morrow.

Residents of Lawrence avenue asked why it was the board insisted on a 6-inch line on that street, when a 5-inch pipe was sufficient. It was not fair to ask subscribers to pay for a line intended to supply other streets further out. The matter was re-referred to the committee on city plant.

Mr. John Kessler applied for the speedy completion of the proposed line on Locust street. It will be laid.

Lines were ordered laid on the following streets:

Illinois, 300 feet west.
Lorain, from Newbury to Broadway.
Canton avenue, from State 100 feet north.
Stebbins, Broadway to West Broadway.
Adams, Twelfth 60 feet west.
Broadway, Railroad avenue to 150 feet on Broadway.
George, Cherry to Walnut.
Yates, Walnut to Cherry.
First, Oak 200 feet north.
Monroe, Michigan 150 feet west.
Woodruff avenue, Vermont 28 feet west.
Dalance, Plymouth 180 feet west.
Woodruff avenue, Vermont 150 feet south.
Vance, Lenk 300 feet west.

Claims amounting to $1,372.82 were ordered paid.

Parks Foster was granted on District No. 7, $14,206, on his final estimate, and on District No. 3, $33,000 on final estimate was allowed him. On Nevada street contract he was allowed $3,552. Kerlin Bros. were allowed $1,200 for a regulator.

Lines were also ordered laid on the following streets:

Locust, Moore to Austin.
Elm, Bancroft to Peck.
Russell, Plymouth to White.
Both sides Walnut, Dove Lane to Michigan.

Kerlin Bros. were allowed $15,087 on one estimate and $1,100 on another, and the same were ordered paid in gas certificates.

Graff Acklin was awarded the contract for constructing a line on Warren, from Adams to Madison streets.

Lines will be constructed at once on Page, from Walnut to Mulberry streets; on Sixteenth from Madison to Adams.

H. C. Ellis was allowed the balance due him on the Detroit avenue line.

Geo. M. Van Evera, for the Kansas City Investment company, was granted the right to construct certain lines through the property owned by that company.

WANTS TO BE PRESIDENT,

The Ambition of Leland Stanford.

His Fate is Now in the Hands of His Boomers.

Southern California Gives Evidence That the Great Millionaire Has Entered the Fight to Remain to the Finish.

Washington, Oct. 27.—A story comes all the way from San Francisco to the effect that the Farmers' alliance candidate for president will not be a farmer at all, but a lawyer. In addition to being a lawyer he is a railroad president, a railroad jobber and a multi-millionaire. His name is Leland Stanford, and he is an amiable old fellow, who sits in the senate from the state of California and nurses a delusion that he is a statesman. In his fertile brain some of the wildest financial schemes of the century have been propagated.

The San Francisco dispatch says: "It is learned from sources wholly reliable that Senator Leland Stanford is the power back of the Farmers' alliance movement. Bill Stow, a noted lobbyist and wire-puller from the Southern Pacific railroad, is engineering the scheme to have Stanford nominated for president by the National Farmers' alliance. President L. L. Polk of the alliance party, who arrived on the Pacific coast a few days ago, has been addressing the farmers of Southern California. He came to the state upon invitation of Senator Stanford, who was anxious to increase, if possible, the alliance movement in Southern California, a section of the state where Stanford is rather unpopular.

"The senator has his plans for the alliance nomination well laid. The ticket will be Stanford and Polk or Stanford and Morgan. The senator is determined to get the nomination, and money will be used lavishly among the leaders of the new party to this end. He has already in his interest some of the best political managers and manipulators in America. These will be backed with millions, if necessary.

"The plan of the managers to nominate Stanford is urged on account of his 2-percent. government loan and land bill. The new party is without funds, and to give it any show of success in the election it must have a candidate who can furnish the sinews of war. This is where Stanford comes in. If pressed upon the attention of the granger delegates, Stanford will likely prove a winning card.

"If Stanford's managers could have exacted their own way about matters they would first secure for him the alliance nomination and then urge his claims upon the republican national convention as a sure road to a republican victory. This is not idle talk, but embraces a scheme that is in active working order throughout the United States. There are able and skilful politicians who are only too anxious to serve the senator—so long as he foots the bills. Senator Stanford will not pose as a seeker after the nomination. He is too astute for that, and has too much pride to wish to appear before the country in the attitude of a rejected candidate. He will cause his boom to be worked up from the other end. He wants the thing to come to him in the guise of a mighty uprising of the farmers of America in his behalf. If they fail to come shouting, the senator will then say he was never a candidate nor indulged the dream of being one. But he is dreaming of it both by day and by night all the same. It will be no fault of Senator Stanford nor of his millions if he is not the candidate of the grangers for president in 1892."

JULIA MARLOWE

Delights a Big Audience with Her Wonderful Acting

As Imogen in "Cymbeline"—Ullie Akerstrom Makes a Hit at the People's—Miss Gale To-Morrow.

One of Shakespeare's most difficult characters, that of "Imogen" in Cymbeline," received a wonderful portayal by Miss Julia Marlowe at the Wheeler Opera House last evening. The many praises that Miss Marlowe has received over the country are well deserved, and her acting last evening showed an exceptional talent especially in a young woman.

Besides her histrionic ability Miss Marlowe is gifted with rare beauty and grace, and the great charm of her acting is its naturalness. During the performance last evening it seemed hard to think of her as any other than the gentle Imogen she played. She was the true woman of gentle and retiring nature through it all, and where she is made acquainted with the fact that Posthumus believes her false to him her conception of the part is somewhat original and different from that usually given it, but all the more true to life. She does not rave or cry, shows a simple heartbreaking anguish too great for words and much more difficult to act. Then in the last act during her disguise as a page, her carriage was superb, and seems rather to emphasize her gentle nature than to make apparent her disguise.

Robert Taber, as Posthumus, her husband, also carried his part with ability, and his grief at finding the wrong he has done his faithful mistress is a fine piece of acting. William Stuart as Philario, T. L. Coleman as Cymbeline, and J. M. Trancoeur as Pisanio all had a proper conception of their parts and proved a strong support. Indeed, the whole company is exceptionally strong with the exception of Giles Shine, as Cloten, who fell far short of the requirements, so much so that his attempts to play the villian in several scenes, provoked nothing but laughter.

To-night Miss Marlowe and company will produce "Ingomar, the Barbarian," Maria Lowell's celebrated play. The part of Parthenia in this is also well suited to Miss Marlowe, and Mr. Charles B. Hanford will be her leading support.

The audience last evening was large and of the best people in the city, and the advance sale for to-night insures her another big house.

Ullie Akerstrom.

Ullie Akerstrom and her most excellent company present "A Little Busy Body," at the People's last evening to a crowded house.

The play is a good one, full of fun, not too much sentiment, but just properly graduated to catch the average audience.

The title role "Busybody" gives Miss Akerstrom opportunity to display her talent and natural ability in this line, which she it not slow to take advantage of. Her singing and dancing captivated the audience, and she received a perfect ovation.

An unusual feature of comedy-drama, other members of the cast are given a show for their white alley. J. K. Appleby, Jr., as Mr. Howard, a nervous old villain, attracted special attention. His version of a miserable old wretch is excellent. Others of the cast acquitted themselves with equally as much credit. The "Mirror Quartette" created an uproar, and would probably have been singing yet had they responded to encores. They were called out seven times. The People's will be crowded all week.

On Wednesday and Thursday evening and Thursday matinee, "Renah, the Gypsy's Daughter," will be presented. On Friday and Saturday evenings "Annette, the Dancing Girl," will close the week's engagement.

"A Dark Secret" next week.

Miss Gale To-morrow.

Wednesday evening at the Wheeler opera house a new aspirant for stellar honors will appear before a Toledo audience and endeavor to win popular approval. Miss Gale will be remembered as the leading lady for Lawrence Barrett, and the Booth-Barrett organization. As the leading lady with those eminent tragedians Miss Gale made so many public friends and received so much encouragement at the hands of critics, it is not remarkable that she should have consented to appear as a star this season.

She is a young woman of great personal loveliness, possessing a voice of melodious charm, endowed with ability that is high in the order of talent, refined, educated, intelligent. Miss Gale has much to qualify her for the work it is her pleasure to undertake. Judging of what she may do by what she has already done, it will be strange if this young actress fails to gain the large favor of the public in such delightful creations as Rosalind, Parthenia, Portia, Galatea, Juliet, Pauline and Julia.

Miss Gale is deserving of the public's favor, and the present season should prove a substantial victory for the young actress. For her engagement at the opera house Miss Gale will have the assistance of what is believed to be a strong company, composed as it is of 21 players, a majority of whom were her companions in the Booth-Barrett combination. Mr. Creston Clarke, the leading man, has already acquired a prominence. He is a nephew of Edwin Booth, and not at all unlike that famed actor in appearance. Among others of the Booth-Barrett company aiding Miss Gale there are: J. L. Carhart, Owen Fawcett, Frederick Vroom, H. A. Weaver, jr., George A. Carter, Rankin Duval, George McCulla, Garrie Davidson, Anna E. Proctor and Keith Wakeman. Mr. Robert M. Eberle, who staged the Booth-Barrett productions, does the same for Miss Gale, and Theodore Bromley, who directs her tour, acted in a like capacity for the two foremost American actors for years.

Miss Gale will be seen in Shakespeare's As You Like It; the advanc sale now indicates a large house.

M'KINLEY TO-NIGHT.

A Large Delegation Went to Sandusky to Meet Him.

To-night Major McKinley will hold forth at Memorial hall, and it is reasonable to suppose he will have a full house.

This afternoon a good-sized delegation left on a special train over the Wheeling road for Sandusky to meet Mr. McKinley and escort him to the city. The party is expected to arrive about 6 o'clock, and will be greeted by republican bicyclists, a brass band, and another turnout of clubs such as appeared when Gov. Foraker was in the city.

A brief reception will be tendered to Major McKinley at the republican club rooms, after which he will go to the Memorial hall meeting.

Ex-Gov. Ashley will, it is announced, fill in the time until the candidate for governor arrives.

SILLY JOHN STUART

Trying to Create Sympathy by Prevaricating.

If ever a candidate was rattled it is John B. Stuart, the republican candidate for sheriff. Expedient after expedient has been tried to rouse old-time friends to his support, all in vain. The last trick is the silliest of all. He is now telling certain persons that the Catholics are opposing him because he arrested Father Quigley. Why, bless John's demoralized soul, he only did his duty in that particular, and not a person, Catholic or Protestant, ever thought a word about it. He acted as a law officer and nothing else. There are more serious charges than that against Stuart and he knows it, and he knows he ought to be defeated, and very likely he knows he will be defeated. If he does not others do. He is a dead duck.

A RAILROADER'S LIFE.

Filled With Constant Danger—The Experience of Mr. G. R. Updyke and His Statements of His Rescue.

Every business in life has its accompanying dangers, but from the numerous accidents in which both life and limb are lost it would seem that railroading is the most hazardous. Not only are those thus engaged subject to accidental dangers but their work, exposed as they are to all kinds of weather, renders them more liable to disease, especially catarrhal affections.

Mr. G. R. Updyke, yard-conductor of the Pennsylvania lines in Toledo, residing at 2101 Erie street, in speaking of his many troubles said:

Mr. G. R. Updyke, 2101 Erie street, Toledo.

"I have suffered most miserably for five years. I had occasional violent headaches. My eyes were weak and watery and my nose was continually stopped up. This was due somewhat to the accumulation of mucus more especially to a number of Nasal Polypli that filled both nostrils. I had to continually hawk and spit. I felt tired in the morning. I had occasional stabbing, at other times dull, pains about the region of the heart.

"I could scarcely breath at times, but after taking treatment of Drs. Copeland and Buffett, who immediately removed the polypli without the slightest pain or loss of blood, my breathing at once became much improved. My pains, aches and troubles almost miraculously disappeared until now I feel better than I have felt for years." They have worked such a great change in my condition that I unhesitatingly recommend them to all those who suffer."

Representative Men.

MR. C. E. McLEAN, 935 Indiana avenue, connected with Roth and Freedman's dyeing establishment, says: "Drs. Copeland and Buffett worked wonders in my case. My catarrhal trouble has disappeared under their skillful treatment. I cannot recommend them too highly.

MR. N. R. DULL, 2215 Lorlie street, contracting carpenter, says: "I recommend Drs. Copeland and Buffett as physicians of marked ability. They relieved me of a catarrhal complaint of long standing.

MR. JOSEPH COOMBS, watchman at the "Blade" building, residing 288 Indiana avenue, says: "To the diligent, faithful, scientific and skillful treatment I received of Drs. Copeland and Buffett do I attribute the fact of my being restored to health."

MR. EUGENE McCARTHY, a member of the Toledo police force, residing at 316 Knower street says: "Drs. Copeland and Buffett cured me of an aggravating hay fever and I unhesitatingly recommend these physicians."

Treated by Mail.

The following testimonial furnishes a notable case of the results of Drs. Copeland and Buffett's system of treatment by mail:

Drs. Copeland and Buffett, respectfully.

"I hereby certify that I have used your catarrh remedies as directed, that you sent me by mail, and have received great benefit thereby. And I fully believe that a permanent cure will be obtained by continuing the use of your medicines a reasonable length of time, which I am very anxious to do." Yours truly,

A PERFECT RESTORATION GUARANTEED.

Organal Weakness
Immediately cured and full vigor restored. This distressing affliction which renders life a burden and marriage impossible—is the penalty paid by victims of improper indulgence. The most chaste must acknowledge that the passions are the great magnet by which the whole world is attracted. Destroy them and what have we? Man is no longer interested in the opposite sex; the interchange of that blissful repose which attracts and interests the whole world, exists no longer; man ceases to be what God made him: the world is no longer interesting to him, and remorse and disappointment are his constant companions. We have devoted years to the study of the best methods of treating the various forms in which this disease manifests itself. We treat every case on its own merits; and thousands to-day join in thanking us for the new lease of life and happiness our skill has opened up to them.

Young Men who have become victims of SOLITARY VICE—that dreadful and destructive habit which annually sweeps to an untimely grave, thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with full confidence.

We address all those who have injured themselves by improper indulgence and solitary habits which ruin both body and mind, unfitting them for business, study, society or marriage.

ANOTHER PIPE LINE.

Toledo Will Surely Keep Warm This Winter.

The Northwestern Constructing a Line from the Sandusky Field.

Toledo will soon have an abundant supply of gas.

The Northwestern Natural Gas company has completed a six-inch line to Perrysburg, connecting with the Sandusky county field.

As was stated in the Bee some time ago, this line would be laid to Toledo at once.

Work of construction has begun, and the line is now headed toward Toledo.

In conversation with a Bee, Manager Tonkin said:

"We hope to have the line completed into Toledo this week. We are making every effort to this end at least. At present we are waiting for a consignment of pipe, and as soon as that arrives the line will be pushed to an early completion."

CANNOT HAVE GAS.

The Trustees' Answer to the Maumee Rolling Mill Men—Special Meeting of the Board.

The natural gas trustees held a special meeting this morning, Messrs. Parsons, Greene and Jones present, to discuss the petition presented by the employes of the Maumee Rolling mills at last night's meeting.

After some discussion Manager Heston was instructed to forward to the chairman of the delegation and others the following resolution:

"Resolved, That owing to the large number of domestic consumers, which have already made contracts for gas, and which now number over 4,300, and which the trustees estimate will soon reach 6,000, together with the large number of small manufacturers now being supplied with gas from the city lines, and who were connected prior to the contract with the Maumee Rolling Mill company, it will, in their judgment, be impossible, with the present pipe line capacity and the reduced well pressure, to supply the rolling mill after Nov. 1, 1891."

The following resolution was also adopted:

"Resolved, That the manager, with the superintendent, make a careful estimation of the different manufacturing establishments now using city gas and report an estimate of the amount consumed daily by each to this board as soon as possible."

Mr. Greene made a motion, and it was adopted, that petitioners for lines and connections be notified that they will be attended to in the order of their applications.

CAUGHT.

Second-Hand Dealers Trying to Evade the Law.

One of Them Called to Answer in Police Court, and More May Follow.

The enforcement of the law requiring second hand dealers to report daily all purchases to the chief of police has resulted in much good, and considerable stolen property has thus been recovered. The second hand dealers, especially those living along St. Clair street, have been but little pleased with the law, and some of them try to avoid it in every way possible. Of late some have taken to open defiance and have not made any reports at all, though it is known that they have been doing business, and the city furnishes them blanks free.

One of these is S. Winaman, of St. Clair street, who made but one report in September, and has made no report this month. At last he has been caught and two cases are pending against him in police court, one for failing to report and the other for dealing with a minor. On Saturday he bought a razor from two boys, and Detectives Brown and Kruse, who had been keeping their eyes on him, soon had a case. He will be tried to-morrow.

THIRTEENTH STREET BRICK.

The Red Brick Rejected by the Street Committee—Grading Contracts Awarded.

Before the meeting of the council board last evening the street committee met and held a lengthy discussion over the brick being used in one block of the Thirteenth street improvement. This is a red brick, and the property owners have raised a large sized and healthy kick.

Contractor Miller was on hand and claimed that the brick was as good, if not better, than that used on the balance of the street. This brick, he said, was brought here for the reason that there was a delay in getting the other material on the ground.

The committee were not so much afraid of the quality of the brick, but the question arose as to whether it was according to specifications or not. If it is not "vitrified fire brick" the assessment can not be collected. It was finally decided to take no risks, and the bricks were rejected.

W. T. Ryan was awarded the contract for grading the Brown road from Oak street to Miami for $1,969. C. W. Ryan was awarded the contract for grading Tracy street from the Brown road to the old city line for $542.50.

Give an Entertainment at the Allen Street Mission.

The Junior Y. P. S. C. E. of the Allen street mission gave an enjoyable musical entertainment last night. The first selection on the program was a piano solo by Miss Hooper. During the evening the society sang some pleasing songs. Mr. Eckhardt's violin solos were well rendered. One of the best numbers was a piano solo by Miss May Hugh. Miss Lucy Wise played a pretty selection on the zither.

The young people were assisted by Rev. H. H. Loomis, of Savannah, who exhibited some beautiful views with a magic lantern, having taken most of the pictures with his own camera. Rev. Loomis was very interesting. The entertainment was a success, and the society is to be congratulated.

HE IS DEAD.

The Father of the Kumlers Joins the Silent Majority.

Hon. J. F. Kumler received a dispatch last evening announcing the death of his father, John Kumler, which occurred at Dayton yesterday, and he, with his wife, has gone to attend the funeral, which occurs to-morrow. Mr. Fred A. Kumler is already there. The deceased was 78 years of age, and had led a long and honorable life. Up to about ten years ago Mr. Kumler resided in Butler county, removing afterwards to Dayton. He was highly respected by all who had the honor of his acquaintance. The family will have the sympathy of their numerous friends in this community in the bereavement which has come upon them.

LOST ON LAKE ST. CLAIR.

The Steamer Alpena Burned Last Night.

The Crew Escaped to the Barges in the Tow—The Destroyed Vessel Insured.

Detroit, Oct. 27.—The steambarge Alpena was destroyed by fire on Lake St. Clair last night. The crew is thought to have escaped. The Alpena, with the barges Antelope, City of the Straits and Potter in tow, was bound down, lumber laden, from Marquette.

The barges are at anchor near the scene of the disaster, about three miles below the canal. The Alpena was owned by J. W. Westcott of this city and valued at $24,000. She was insured against fire.

CANDIDATE PECKINPAUGH

Drops Into Toledo for a Few Hours To-day.

Hon. Thomas E. Peckinpaugh, of Wooster, candidate for auditor of state on the democratic ticket, arrived in the city this morning, and spent a few hours looking after his fences. He is the same genial gentleman as of yore, and if he does not defeat the great estimater, Ebenezer Willing Poe, it will not be because he is not laboring zealously to do it.

Asked by a Bee as to the outlook, Mr. Peckinpaugh replied:

"The democrats of Ohio at every point I have visited are sanguine of success, and I am with them. We will receive the aid of a large number of republicans this year who will not indorse the position of their party on the tariff question. Good work is being done everywhere, and there is little, if any, doubt but that the entire state ticket will be elected.

Mr. Peckinpaugh met a number of local democrats, and this afternoon went to Sandusky to do a job of handshaking with Erie county's hustlers.

THE SCHOOL BOARD

Discuss Several Matters of Importance,

Including the Insurance Claims—Shortage of Gas Reported—Pay Rolls and Bills Approved.

The school board met in regular session last evening, all members present but Dr. Beckwith.

The clerk read a communication from Mr. C. M. Robison, who is desirous of introducing a penmanship exercise in the public schools. It is a training of the movement of the arm. It is a new system and Mr. Robison offers to supply instructions at 3 1-2 cents apiece, and give the teachers personal instruction. Referred to the finance committee with power to act.

Superintendent Compton stated that on account of the great increase of clerical work in his office within the last year, the force was inadequate, and that another clerk would be necessary, as well as a letter press and a typewriter. This was also referred to the finance committee with power to act.

The superintendent of buildings informed the board that there was a shortage of gas for fuel at the Hoag and Nebraska schools, and that it was necessary to shut down two or three days during the last month on account of the buildings being too cold.

Mr. Major said that he was in conversation with Mr. O'Day, of the Northwestern, the other day, who informed him that the second line from the Sandusky county field would be completed within ten days, when there would be 2,000,000 feet of gas for the Fifth and Ninth wards. The possibility of securing city gas for these buildings was discussed, but it was concluded that the buildings are located too far from the city lines. The matter was referred to the fuel committee with power to act.

The various committees reported bills approved as follows: Building committee, $441.10; supplies, $478.38; finance, janitors' pay roll, $529; teachers, $12,678.91; fuel, $90.35.

Mr. Major reported that complaint had been made to him of the unhealthy condition of the drinking water at the Warren street school.

The superintendent of buildings said that the surface water was bad, but recently the well had been deepened and cleaned out and a filter provided.

Mr. Major submitted the city solicitor's opinion in the insurance matter, as follows:

The legal proposition submitted to me, I answer as follows: That the board will be held for the premium earned upon the insurance between the dates at which the policies for the same were delivered to and returned by the board. This should be based upon the short rate insurance for one year. W. H. A. READ, City Solicitor.

Mr. Major moved that the matter be referred to the building committee and superintendent of buildings, to fix the value of the buildings in the city, and that the insurance be limited to 33 per cent. on brick buildings and 50 per cent. on frame.

Mr. Schlingman moved an amendment to cancel $18,000 worth of insurance, and refer the matter to the finance committee to adjust.

The motion as amended was approved.

Treasurer Opitz advised a loan of $13,000, which was approved.

DOINGS IN FINDLAY.

Another Raid on the Shoe String Gamblers.

The Brown Tax Bill Declared Unconstitutional by the Circuit Court—General Mention.

Chief of Police Myers divided up his force of policemen into squads and made a wholesale raid on all the gambling houses in the city at an early hour Saturday evening, causing a great sensation at the time, as the streets were crowded with people. At Eugene Hoadley's place on North Main street the proprietor and seven men were captured. At George Smith's place in the Union block the proprietor and nine men and boys were taken in. At Frank Plunner's place, near the bridge, the proprietor and ten men were caught.

At the International, which is run by John Jones, 14 men besides the proprietor were taken into custody. At the larger places the boys were given a quiet tip and got out of the way before the arrival of the officers. The men were hustled to the central station amid the jeers and shouts of the large crowd of spectators. The prisoners all gave fictitious names to the night patrolmen. The proprietors were made to put up $50 for their appearance before Mayor Meehan, and the men $10 each. The fight among the gamblers themselves and the wholesale gambling on the fair grounds was the cause of bringing this matter to a focus. Nearly fifty men and boys were captured and the raid was the most successful ever tried on the city. The city treasurer will reap a rich reward from the unfortunates. This will demoralize the green cloth gentry for some time to come. Judge Johnson will probably get after them again.

The Brown Bill Unconstitutional.

In the circuit court the decision of the lower court has been reversed and Judge Seney gave a lengthy review of the case of why the Brown bill was unjust and unconstitutional. The suit was the City of Findlay v. Auditor Metcalf, to collect taxes on farming property within the present city limits that was thrown out and added to the adjoining townships to escape city taxes by the Brown bill. The case will be carried to the supreme court.

Letter Carriers' Ball.

Findlay's bright corps of letter carriers are making extensive preparations for their second annual benefit ball to be given on Thanksgiving eve. The boys are attentive to business and hard workers, and they deserve a large benefit, and the prospects are good for a very large and enjoyable time.

AMONG POLISH DEMOCRATS.

Instructions as to the Australian Ballots and Good Speeches.

The Polish democrats of the Seventh and First wards held a meeting last night at Grudzinski's hall on Lagrange street, which was attended by nearly two hundred Polish voters. Polish speakers acquainted the voters with the principles of the democratic party, and explained to them the new system of voting. The first speaker was the well-known young business man, Mr. M. Brzeczka, and the second Capt. J. Tomaszewski.

The speeches of both gentlemen were received with the greatest enthusiasm by the Poles.

MUST PAY FOR THEIR CHIPS.

An Important Decision Rendered in New York.

A Man Who Plays Poker and Loses Must Cash Up with the Banker.

New York, Oct. 27.—Chief Justice Ehrlich of the city court has decided that buying chips at a game of poker was a legal transaction, and that the person buying the same could not avoid payment on the ground that it was a gambling debt.

This decision was in the suit of Edward W. Green against John A. P. Glore to recover $144.70, the amount of two checks given by Glore during a friendly game of "draw" to Marcus Stifter of 169 East Eighty-first street, who acted as banker, in return for the equivalent in "bones."

Glore is a member of the firm of John A. P. Glore and Co., dealers in produce. One of the checks was on his individual account and the other in the name of the firm, but payment was stopped on both. Stifter had transferred the checks to Green, who brought the action.

Glore admitted that he won and lost during the game. "But I afterwards found out that it was a skin game and notified the bank not to pay the checks" he testified. His attorney asked that the case be dismissed on the statutory ground that a claim for a gambling debt had no standing in law. Chief Justice Ehrlich directed the jury to render a verdict for $148.20, and they did so without leaving their seats.

CRISP AND WARNER.

A Large Meeting Greeted Them at Wapakoneta Yesterday.

Wapakoneta, Oct. 27.—(Special)—Last evening marked an epoch in the rallying history of the democratic party in Wapakoneta and surrounding country. Democrats, farmers, business men and others poured in from neighboring towns and country to hear two of the most eloquent and noted men in the country, Hon. Chas. F. Crisp, of Georgia, and Hon. W. C. Warner, of New York.

Early in the evening a procession was formed, headed by a band and nearly a mile in length, and paraded the principal streets of town.

Directly afterward they repaired to the opera house to listen to the able gentlemen talk on the tariff. Hundreds of people were refused admittance on account of lack of room. Delegations from every township in the county were here. Congressman F. C. Layton presided over the meeting. Fully 10,000 were in town.

WHICH ONE TO HOLD.

The Putnam Grand Jury in a Hole.

General Belief that Roberts Will Go Free and Van Loon Be Held for the Bank Robbery.

Ottawa, O., Oct. 27.—The Putnam county grand jury is still wrestling with the perplexing question of which of the two men, James Roberts or Frank Van Loon, the prisoners confined in the jail, is the man who committed the Columbus Grove bank robbery and murder.

Within the past 24 hours a great deal of new testimony has been developed to show that Van Loon is the man, and the knowing ones say that he will be indicted for the double crime and Roberts cleared.

TOLD OF HIS SON'S DISGRACE.

W. M. Munson Short Fourteen Thousand.

The Fulton Building and Loan Association the Losers—Wine and Gambling Did It.

Cincinnati, Oct. 27.—Wine suppers, gambling tables and Latonia races are the causes of the embezzlement of nearly $14,000 by Wm. L. Munson, assistant secretary of the Fulton Building and Loan association.

The disclosures were made by his father, who is secretary and treasurer, and his younger brother George, who is an assistant.

For some time they had known something was wrong with the books and cash deposits, but only upon full investigation had they any idea of William's defalcation.

Last night the disgraced father stood in the meeting room of the association and made known the shortage of his son.

The association, which is one of the oldest in the city, may be placed in the hands of a receiver.

Wm. Munson is traveling passenger agent of the Kentucky Central, branch of the Louisville and Nashville railway, and was well and favorably known in railroad circles. He and his young wife live in Newport, Ky., having been married but two years. Munson says but for his father and brother he would have left home.

WAS BLOWING HIMSELF.

Old Boreas Out on a Lark Last Night.

Conneaut Damaged to the Extent of $100,000.

Lake Erie Lashed Into a Foam and Fears that Many Vessels Have Met with Disaster.

Conneaut, O., Oct. 27.—(Special)—A terrible cyclone struck this town shortly after 6 o'clock last evening, destroying about 30 houses and causing a loss of $100,000.

The terrific wind storm was accompanied by very little rain. Record's butter tub factory, worth $50,000, was completely wrecked.

The Lake Shore depot was also demolished and wreckage strewn upon the tracks for half a mile, rendering them impassable for several hours.

Both the Nickel Plate and Lake Shore telegraph wires are tangled up on the ground. Many fine residences were unroofed and otherwise damaged.

It is thought that no lives were lost.

The storm was very severe all through northern Ohio last night, and much damage to shipping is reported.

In Cleveland the velocity of the wind was from 30 to 40 miles an hour all night, and Lake Erie was literally turned inside out. Several vessels are reported to have been wrecked, but no definite news has as yet been received concerning them.

ON THE LAKES.

Cleveland, Oct. 27.—About 5:30 o'clock last evening the weather began to look threatening to experienced seamen, and an hour later a blow came up suddenly that bade fair to do damage to shipping outside the harbor.

The blow kept up until after midnight, in different degrees of violence. The United States steamer Michigan, which is lying in the harbor, dragged her anchors and drifted a quarter of a mile in shore. Other anchors were let go and she rode safe.

The steamer Western Reserve left port, but soon afterward returned. The steamer City of Detroit, due to leave for Detroit at 10:30 p. m., did not leave, the captain not wishing to expose the passengers to the discomforts of the heavy sea. No damage was done to any craft as far as known, and the little steamer A. Y. Gowan arrived from Kelly's island with a load of lime about midnight. This was the only arrival during the evening.

WOULD NOT REGISTER WOMEN.

Several prominent Fifth and Ninth ward ladies asked to be registered Saturday evening at the polling booths of their voting districts, but were refused although they cited the fourteenth and fifteenth amendments as entitling them to registration.

AFTER A HORSE THIEF.

MOST PEOPLE

Know only a comparatively few things thoroughly—all else is more or less uncertain.

Take your own case. What do you know about CARPETS, for instance? Are you competent to detect poor materials, or imperfect weaving, or unreliable colorings, or old-style patterns?

No.

Then will it not be wisdom on your part to make your purchases of CARPETS where all these points are taken care of in your interest, and where you are protected, not only from direct misrepresentation, but from the results of your own inexperience?

That seems plain enough.

Just two things we promise every customer. They are these:

That every salesman shall tell the whole truth about every piece of goods offered for sale; that anything which proves imperfect, through the appearance of any hidden defect subsequent to purchase, shall be made right.

The name of our firm stands behind these two guarantees.

Very likely you are thinking of purchasing one or more CARPETS shortly. If so, consider what we have said.

HOW TO VOTE.

All persons who are opposed to McKinley and high taxes should vote just this way: Put an X at the left of the words "Democratic Ticket," thus:

X | DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

The large increase in Toledo's registration means well for the democratic ticket.

This is the last week for estimating Mr. McKinley's majority. Next week they'll be counting the majority for Campbell.

Defiance county will give about 1,500 majority for the entire democratic ticket next Tuesday.

George Bodette has been silenced by Engelhardt, who is afraid to have the truth told before election about the Central avenue stone road.

In the event of the democrats carrying the legislature, which they surely will do, Mr. L. E. Holden, of Cleveland, will be one of the candidates for United States senator.

Russia, with her starving thousands, has just launched three magnificent new ironclads. Like the other great European powers, these are significant of her desire to maintain the peace.

Gov. Ashley is having a pleasant time this campaign. Nothing but oratory. Last year he was robbed by the republican committee of every dollar he could command. That's the way they elected the republican county ticket and left Ashley in the soup. They miss the gudgeon this year.

The first thing to do when you receive your ticket from the judges next Tuesday is to look for the rooster column. Then right below that beautiful bird you will see the words "Democratic Ticket." Put an X at the left of that line, fold your ticket, vote it and go away satisfied that you have done your whole duty.

The association of iron and steel workers will prove in the United States district court that the Welshmen who have been employed in the much-advertised Niedringhaus tin works were contracted for in the old country in direct violation of law—upon the direct testimony of the Welshmen themselves. And this is how the tax on steel and iron and a double tax on tin "protects" American labor!

Harry Dowling is making a splendid canvass for sheriff and is gaining every day. No candidate ever had better prospects of election. He is clean in character and politics and is favorably known in every precinct in the county. Not a word can be said against him and not a reason can be urged against his election. He is an honor to his party, and as Sheriff of Lucas county he will be a credit to all the people. No man can make a mistake by voting for Harry Dowling.

Harrison, Harrison of Chicago, Carter Harrison (you've heard of him) will take charge of the Chicago Times this week, having absolute control. He will "write editorials when he feels like it." The paper will be uncompromisingly democratic and all-fired independent. Mr. Harrison has been farmer, lawyer, author, politician, real estate man, traveling correspondent and various other minor things. Now at the age of 65 years he becomes an editor. Verily a man sometimes comes into his best estate late in life.

The din din of "American tin" should not drown the remembrance of the defiant and shameless squandering of the people's money by Tom Reed's billion-dollar congress. Brass bands and badges may catch the crowd, but the principles of the men who are to make the nation's laws and manage the nation's finances are the potent things to consider. The greatest calamity to befall the Union since its existence would be sanction of the robber tariff law, lobbied through the last congress by the trusts and monopolies it is framed to benefit.

President Harrison says "If the great experiment (of making tin in this country) is to fail our own people should not add to the mortification of failure the crime of rejoicing in it."—Exchange.

Which is a ridiculous bit of pettifoging. "If the experiment should fail"—when the three-times protected iron mills of Pennsylvania roll the plate, and according to republican authority the hills of the west are full of tin ore, and according to John Sherman any child can do the "dipping," and according to a Pennsylvania manufacturer, "already machinery is invented which enables one man in America to do the work of one hundred men in Wales;" and when as is not mentioned by the tax-for-the-benefit-of-labor preachers—manufacturers can and do go into the world's labor market and contract at "pauper" rates for their workmen, with all these circumstances crowding would-be producers to success, why shall the "experiment fail"? The president says, in his letter, he "has made inquiry and learns," etc. Evidently he hasn't learned half that his party leaders have to teach, or, in view of the affirmations above quoted, he wouldn't talk about the "experiment" failing. Democrats are a thousand times more hopeful than he. They believe the tin industry is able to stand on its own merits, if half the tax advocates affirm is true.

A republican paper wants the Chicago world's fair tower (prospective) named. The organ is way behind; it is already named, if Mr. Carnegie builds it. And what more fitting monument to the power of wealth, acquired by governmental aid, could be devised? With the tribute of the taxpayers of America, Mr. Carnegie has been able to plant monuments for himself in various cities of both worlds. A Carnegie tower, which should stand memorial for legislation that creates millionaires and paupers within a brief space of years, would be appropriate if not reassuring.

Jacob Englehardt has no reason to fear the petty snappings and heel bites of a sore and disgruntled opposition party newspaper.—Blade.

As the mild-mannered Bee is the only newspaper in Toledo that opposes the election of Mr. Englehardt, we presume it is the 'sore and disgruntled party newspaper" above alluded to. Now this is exceedingly rough on good nature. The Bee has buzzed abroad the notorious news that Jacob is greater than law, and that he is the only officer in the county who dares damn the people with impunity. Great is this man—and great will be his defeat next Tuesday, though we greatly fear this latter truth will be considered a "snapping heel bite" by our cross-eyed neighbor on the corner.

To-night Major McKinley will speak in Memorial hall and the burden of his speech will be a defense of his tariff law. As he has repeatedly said the law was passed in the interest of American labor, perhaps he will condescend to inform his audience the name of an American workingman whose wages have been increased by his tariff law. Perhaps, also, he will explain why the farmers' wool is lower in price and the price of carpets higher since his law took effect. There are many curiosities in this wonderful law which Mr. McKinley ought to explain, instead of occupying his hour with platitudes of praise of the abstract theories of protection.

Now, there is John Weckerly, one of the democratic candidates for the legislature, who would honor the position. He is a business man of sterling integrity, and has an acquaintance with the farming community which will do him a vast amount of good on election day. Mr. Weckerly is acquainted with the ills from which the agricultural interests suffer, and can intelligently assist in applying the remedies. He has never been an office seeker, and only consented to make the race this year as a duty he owed to the democratic party. The voters of Lucas county will find in John Weckerly a man in whom their confidence will not be misplaced. Stand by him Nov. 3.

A REPUBLICAN PREDICAMENT.

Major McKinley is the putative father of the tariff law of 1890. Secretary Blaine is the parent of the reciprocity clause which is attached to the tariff act. High tariff and reciprocity are widely divergent. McKinley hates Blaine's reciprocity, while without the reciprocal clause Blaine says the law would be useless. Between the two—the law and reciprocity—a nice kettle of fish is being prepared for the alleged head of the republican party, President Harrison.

The republicans have gotten over on democratic ground long enough this summer to brag about free sugar and other articles which are as free as democrats would make almost everything if they had an opportunity to legislate for the country's good. Having taken this stand the republicans must continue to insist that sugar, coffee and tea must forever remain free.

Now comes the trouble. Blaine's reciprocity clause expressly makes it the duty of the president "on and after the first day of January, 1892, and whenever the president shall be satisfied that the government of any country producing and exporting sugars, molasses, coffee, tea, hides, or any of such articles, imposes duties or other exactions upon the agricultural or other products of the United States, which in view of the free introduction of such articles into the United States he may deem to be reciprocally unequal, he shall have the power, and it shall be his duty, to suspend by proclamation the free introduction of sugar," etc., into the United States, and there shall be imposed upon such articles duties as follows: Coffee three cents a pound; tea ten cents a pound, sugar from one and three-eights to two cents a pound; molasses four cents a gallon and hides one and one-half cents a pound.

Now, the year of our Lord 1891 is almost passed and the reciprocity clause of this wonderful law is of no binding force on Japan and China which furnish our tea, nor on a number of Spanish-American republics which annually supply the United States 24,000,000 pounds of sugar, nor on countries which largely supply hides. If those countries do not establish a reciprocal treaty by January 1, 1892, President Harrison must lay an embargo on their teas and coffees and sugars and hides. If he does proclaim the tax, there will at once be a scarcity and up will go the price to American consumers. If a duty is placed upon hides New England manufacturers will object. If the price of tea advances there will be a merry war among the "protected" drinkers. If coffee goes up and sugar goes up there will be another row. If Harrison dodges and does not proclaim the duty he will be guilty of plain violation of the law and will be liable to impeachment.

Either horn of the dilemma will be troublesome, and either Harrison or McKinley will be roundly abused.

Mr. Blaine will be on the outside to enjoy the fun and square the party to himself for the big race next year. 'Tis a wonderful monstrosity to which McKinley's name is attached and which he is trying to defend before the people of Ohio.

They Will See to It.

Joe Manley says that Secretary Blaine will accept the republican nomination for the presidency if it is tendered to him. If this is correct we expect soon to see measures being taken by such novices in the art of politics as Chris Magee, of Pittsburg, Steve Elkins, of West Virginia, and Ex-Senator Quay to see that the tender is made.—New Orleans New Delta.

Recipe for Dead Dog.

President Harrison is said to have been the recipient of a box of tin plate. If it is the Piqua variety and to be made into dishes, we would advise the president to feed the first batch of victuals cooked in the new dishes to the dog.—Peoria Herald.

CANDIDATE JOHN SEITZ

Pays His Respects to McKinley and Sherman and Protection.

He Talks to an Audience in Walbridge Hall

On the Political Issues of the Day, and the Reasons for Which the People's Party Has Been Organized—Its Demands.

The audience assembled in Walbridge hall last evening to listen to a speech by Hon. John Seitz, of Tiffin, candidate for governor of Ohio on the people's party ticket, was not a large one, numbering in all some 200 persons. It was an audience that made up in enthusiasm what it lacked in numbers, for the speaker was often interrupted by hearty applause during his two hours' talk.

In the main the audience was composed of mechanics and workingmen, though the clergy, doctors of medicine, and members of other professions were represented. The chairman of the meeting was J. A. Asper, candidate for the legislature on the same ticket. Other nominees of the ticket in Lucas county were also present. The chairman introduced Mr. Seitz as the choice of the Springfield convention for head of the ticket in Ohio, and the gentleman whom Mr. Sherman declined to meet in joint debate.

Mr. Seitz began by disclaiming any rhetorical ability, and said he proposed to give a brief resume of the people's movement. As was anticipated by those who knew Mr. Seitz' connection with the greenback movement, his talk was mainly upon financial issues, altohugh other demands of the people's platform were not ignored.

Parties, said the speaker, are no more immortal than are individuals. They are born of necessity, they grow, perform their mission, and having performed it they, sooner or later, forget the purpose of their creation, making a new party a recurring necessity.

In the first cabinet formed by Washington there were represented two schools of political thought, the one headed by Alexander Hamilton, who held the treasury portfolio, the other by Thomas Jefferson, secretary of state. Hamilton looked upon the monarchical form of government as the ideal to be patterned after. Jefferson held that constitutional government was strongest and best that was nearest to and of the people. From that day to this there have been these two political faiths, under whatever name politics have been called.

There was but one turn in power for the Hamilton school. The people endorsed Jefferson's theories, elected him president, and continued that school in power 24 years.

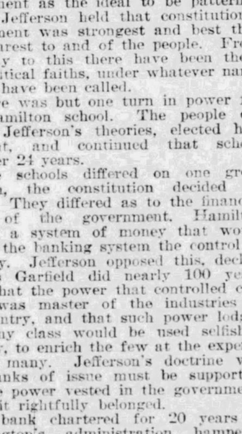
These schools differed on one great question, the constitution decided all others. They differed as to the financial policy of the government. Hamilton favored a system of money that would give to the banking system the control of currency. Jefferson opposed this, declaring (as Garfield did nearly 100 years later) that the power that controlled currency was master of the industries of the country, and that such power lodged with any class would be used selfishly, unjustly, to enrich the few at the expense of the many. Jefferson's doctrine was that banks of issue must be supported, and the power vested in the government, where it rightfully belonged.

The bank chartered for 20 years in Washington's administration hampered Jefferson from putting his doctrine into practice. In 1816 this bank was rechartered, under Madison, himself opposed to it. It was a compromise on his part. Compromise generally means surrender, and so it proved. In 1824 Jackson, one of several candidates for president, was counted out in the house of representatives. In 1828 he made an independent campaign, on the distinct and single issue that money should be from the people, and not through any corporation or class, and he won.

Although he was true to his pledges, and would not recharter the bank, and although the Jefferson party retained the name that endeared it to the people it lost his spirit and fell into the hands of bankers and spoilsmen. Just as today men call themselves Lincoln republicans or Jeffersonian democrats with no conception of the meaning of the words. As for Jackson, in refusing to recharter the United States bank, he performed a grander act, a more patriotic one, one entitling him to more enduring fame, than the battle and victory of New Orleans.

In 1850 the question of chattel slavery was foremost, and the whig and democratic parties thought they settled it by the fugitive slave law, and other like measures. The moral sentiment of the people rejected these settlements and a new party arose.

In 1860 this new party's candidate was elected president, as before for a specific end, because, as before, the two existing parties had lost sight of the fundamental doctrines of this country, that all men and all classes have an equal right to all the natural rights guaranteed by the constitution.



A New Party Born.

To-day we are confronted by the same condition of things, and a new party is born for the same reason. The old parties have lost sight of the reason for their organization, class rule prevails, and industrial slavery has taken the place of chattel slavery in a more cruel form than chattel slavery ever showed. The famous "Hazzard" circular was referred to, the document of 1862, in which British bankers expressed their satisfaction that chattel slavery, in which masters had to care for the young, the old and the sick, was dying, and that America must soon resort to the better European plan of controlling labor by controlling the money of the country, the volume of its currency, and thus the price of products and the wages of the laborer.

The legal tender act; the issue of greenbacks with the important exceptions that they were not good for paying public debts and import duties; the establishment of national banks; contraction of the currency; the credit-strengthening act; the refunding; the demonetization of silver; the resumption of specie payment, were then reviewed by the speaker as the links the party in power forged to bind labor and the producer in chains that made him the helpless slave of the non-producing banker and capitalist.

His Respects to McKinley and Sherman.

"We are told by the distinguished gentleman who represents Ohio in the United States senate, that the bankers were the patriots who saved the nation, and that they must be paid in gold, though Sherman held a contrary opinion in his more honest days. We are told by Charley Foster, McKinley and Sherman (Cleveland and Bayard say the same) that the notes disturbed by contraction were not and never had been money. Sherman says the 7-30 notes were issued as money, but never were money for one hour. But after the war a Tiffin county soldier, who was paid off in these 7-30 notes, paid them to Charley Foster for a farm, and Foster took them fast enough. In 1872 Hugh McCullough counted these notes as part of the nation's currency. Gen. Spinner, whose name as treasurer of the United States is signed to them, said they were prepared, issued and used as money John A. Logan, who died without becoming a millionaire, declared they were money. These three, Secretary McCullough, U. S. Treasurer Spinner and Honest John Logan I believe, rather than Foster, McKinley and Sherman.

"Take away the money of the people and they are obliged to use credit. This legislation from 1866 to 1878 forced the people into debt, and to-day they carry the burden of a debt of $30,000,000,000 on which they pay an average rate of interest at 7 per cent., and the net earnings of labor will not meet this interest, the interest is added to the principal, the debt grows larger, and that's why the people are getting deeper and deeper into debt.

"The credit strengthening act is Sherman's own. He engineered it through to the president, and Grant, by a stroke of his pen put $600,000,000 in the pockets of a class, and that the least worthy class in the country."

Of the demonetization of silver in 1873 Mr. Seitz said the British bankers sent Ernest Seyd to this country to engineer it. The bill was drafted by this Englishman, and Representative Kelley said it went from the committee to the house in this Englishman's handwriting. It was read by its title only in the house. It was read by its title only in the house, passed the senate in the same way, and in the same way was signed by the president, without knowing what they were about. Foster said he didn't know the real nature of the bill. Garfield didn't know it. But Sherman did.

Sherman was in it.

The gold of the whole world is not enough to do the business of this country, but the man who is stumping this state championing the gold dollar as "the only honest dollar" is ready to tie up the wheels of industry at the command of British holders of gold.

Sherman in his Paulding speech said that "after the adoption of those great financial policies a great wave of prosperity struck this country." "Yes," said Mr. Seitz, "in 1877, when the wheels of the factories stood still, the fires were out, and 700,000 American workmen were turned into tramps. And when the American workman was for the first time a tramp the same statesmen that made the law that made him a tramp, passed the law that made it a penitentiary offense to be a tramp."

McKinley's Clap-Trap Campaign.

"These conditions exist and continue because the men you have sent to congress, the men you have made governors and presidents have made laws against you. They have made laws for the class who are furnishing the sinews of war to carry on the campaign in Ohio. When I spoke in Vinton county, to an audience nearly as large as McKinley had just preceding me, I was told that his single meeting cost nearly $700. A republican told me so. The money was spent to make a splurge and dazzle the children voters. But I hope and believe the time has gone by when 1,000 and 10,000 votes can be caught by such cheap clap-trap as that. Farmers are tired of seeing their farms shrink in value 40 to 60 per cent. that by special legislation an untaxed nobility may be fostered in this country. Labor foots all the bills, and the rattle of tin we hear has no significance, for taxes,

Under Whatever System,

are paid by labor. Mills says the tin is in the air. McKinley says it is in the earth, and he has his friends, the experts, trying to locate just where it is. I haven't heard they have found it. There is some tin in Dakota. Specimens of it were taken to England and tested. It may have been found worth working, for forthwith an English syndicate, headed by a member of parliament, sent over and bought the mine. The protectionists promise 200,000,000 men work in making American tin. There are not 50,000 tin workmen in the whole earth. But suppose there is tin.

Who Gets the Protection?

Messrs. Englishmen, who own the mine and will own the mill if we ever get one. And that's all the glory there is in this tin business, and who is protected by it. Labor comes in free. The tariff does not bar it out, and there is no protection for labor in protection.

McKinley's Recipe.

McKinley says: "You can't make men rich by law. Workingmen and farmers, the only honest way to get money is to work for it."

"Too late to give such advice when we have such legislation to look back upon. Let us see—$600,000,000 placed to the credit of a class by one act of legislation and nothing produced to show for the value.

"But McKinley says, 'The only honest way to get money is to work for it.'

"Bankers can handle $300,000,000 annually, getting it at 1 per cent., and lending it out at interest from 6 to 25 per cent.

"But McKinley says to working men and farmers, 'The only honest way to get money is to work for it.'

"The American people built the Union Pacific railway, giving $60,000,000 as a side issue for pocket money to these fellows who now say to us,

"'You can't make men rich by law. Workingmen and farmers, the only honest way to get money is to work for it.'

"Government furnishes bonded warehouses for whiskey; stores it three years, its value increasing all the time. Government furnishes the employes who roll the barrels about. Government issues a certificate of deposit to the owners of the whiskey, which they can deposit in a bank, take the money on the certificates and go out to buy more rye, corn, etc., to make more whiskey.

"But McKinley says, 'Oh, you can't make men rich by law. The only honest way to earn money is to work for it.'

"Sherman advocates the loan by the United States of $100,000,000 for 100 years to a company to build the Nicaraugua canal.

"But Sherman says with McKinley, to farmers and other producers, 'The only honest way to earn money is to work for it.'

"It comes with very bad grace when such legislators advise us as to what are 'honest' ways of getting rich."

What the People's Party Want.

"We are told there are two things necessary to the prosperity of this country, protective tariff and the 'honest dollar.' We have had that 'honest dollar' since 1873. It has got 70 per cent of the wealth of this country into the hands of 189,000 people. We have had the protective tariff since the early days of the war. The two have brought us to our present condition. How do you like it?"

Mr. Seitz devoted considerable time to the defense of the people's party demand that the government shall own and control the railroads, which he claimed was no more socialistic than that the schools, courts and postoffice should be institutions under government control, administered in the interests of all the people. The corporate and alien ownership of land, which this party claims should be abolished, he explained they expected to do away with by constitutional means, through a graduated tax. The emphasis of his speech was upon the financial question, however, and he said:

"Our first demand is the establishment of an American system of money that shall give us greater freedom from British bondholders and gold holders than Yorktown and New Orleans gave us from the British government.

"We are accused of being calamity howlers, and of preaching distress when there is no distress, but 30,000,000 of my countrymen almost one-half the American people are already dispossessed of their homes by the accursed system that is piling up wealth for the few. It is time to be alarmed and to be doing. No help can come to you from legislators who have been consorting with lobbyists for the last 20 years. They don't know what the people are or ought to be. If you want to be free, quit sending them to make law for you.

"The last time I talked with that grand old man of Ohio, Bill Allen, he said, 'If you want to be free from the domination of bankers and money shysters, stop sending them to make laws for you.'

"There is more honest intention and more ability under the hat of the 'greasy mechanic' and the 'hay-seed farmer' than under the silk tiles of these fellows who have been studying all these years how to get there and what they could make out of it. Judge the parties by their records and not by their promises, and by their records I charge they are owned and controlled by the money power. These men have gone wrong in politics because the people allowed it, because the people have forgotten eternal vigilance, the price of liberty.

"I have not spoken for myself here one word, nor have I anywhere else in the state. I have spoken for the cause, for the country, for the generation, for coming generations. But for myself, I would rather stand with a few thousand, with a few hundred, and be in the right, than to go with the majority and know I was wrong."

A COOKING SCHOOL.

Shall There Be an Evening Class Formed for Working Girls?

To-morrow evening there will be an open meeting in Walbridge hall, under the auspices of Joan of Arc assembly, L. A. 10062, K. of L., to discuss the formation of an evening class in cooking, to be taught under the auspices of the manual training school, at the high school building. Everyone interested in the establishment of such a class is cordially invited to attend, and a special invitation is extended to the members of the Working Girls union.

The question is one that has long been under discussion, whether one or more evening classes shall not be formed under these auspices, for girls who are employed during the day. There seems to be no reason why the evening schools which have been so successful for young men would not be equally successful and beneficial for young women.

It is understood that the trustees of the manual training school will willingly meet any requests that may be made upon them in this direction, and wait only to be assured that a sufficient number desire to join such classes as would guarantee their success.

The matter will be fully debated tomorrow evening, and Misses Smith and Campbell, teachers of cooking in the manual training school, will be present to give their experience and observation as to the benefits to be derived from forming such a class.

NO TRUTH IN THE REPORT

That Bob Booth Is Working for Griffin.

To bolster up the republican candidate, friends of C. P. Griffin are circulating the report that Mr. R. F. Booth, one of the democratic nominees for the legislature, is interesting himself in behalf of the big third-termer.

Mr. Booth stated to a Bee this morning that nothing could be further from the truth. He is laboring, not only for his own success, but that of the entire democratic ticket, and is confident that when the votes are counted on the evening of November 3 the party of the people will be found on top.

The workingmen of Toledo have an opportunity to honor one of their number by electing Mr. Booth. He is an everyday practical printer, not a jawsmith, and the professional workingmen, printers and others, who are out laboring against him, ought to be in better business.

ALDERMAN POTTER'S OPINION.

The Rolling Mill Owners Have Done Nothing for Toledo.

Said Alderman Potter this morning:

"What has Horace Walbridge ever done for Toledo, anyway? He and the other rolling mill people have always opposed the pipe line and they have purposely wasted gas to destroy the line. I am not in favor of doing anything for them now."

That's the way an alleged intelligent city father talks about a Toledo institution that employs six hundred men.

A Probable Outcome.

The Kansas alliance yesterday decided upon a gigantic scheme of monopoly in that state. The alliance will become a part of the National Union company, of New York, capital $20,000,000, and will run co-operative stores all over the state. At the end of the experiment the New York concern will probably own the Kansas alliance, body and breeches, while the alliance will have to hustle for the breeches.—Courier-Journal.

Right Kind of Infant Industry.

Not to be outdone in the infant industry or excelled by Mr. Cleveland, Governor Pattison is now boasting of a new baby girl, and Candidate Flower has a sturdy young grandson, who started in life since the campaign opened. Verily, there are chances for a prolific crop of babies, if nothing else, before the campaign is over. Let 'em come. This is a great country.—Savannah News.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

THE STATE IS OURS.

Hahn, of the Republican State Committee,

Throws Up His Hands and Surrenders the Ship.

Boodle Alone Can Save McKinley—Hahn's Interesting Epistle to a Relative.

The flag of commercial liberty floats free and high, and James E. Campbell has captured the state.

Wm. M. Hahn, chairman of the republican state executive committee, acknowledges the truth, and says Ohio will probably go democratic.

Mr. Hahn has not given the information out for publication, but he gave it just the same, and it is mighty comforting at the present stage of the game.

Mr. Hahn has not given the facts to any correspondent, neither has he told it to some political crony who might give the snap away. Not much. The facts are these:

Traveling in McKinley's train is a young man, a stenographer, who is said to be a relative of Mr. Hahn's. The young man has $200 for which, he seems to have no particular use. The young man hails from Urbana, Ohio, and he has been telling tales out of school to some friends there.

A wek ago he wrote Mr. Hahn, asking him for advice relative to betting his money on McKinley.

"I have $200," he wrote, "and I would like to double it within the next three weeks. Would it be safe on McKinley?"

In due course of time an answer came. It was marked private and strictly confidential.

"Two or three weeks ago," answered Mr. Hahn, "I was as confident of McKinley's election as I was of the sun rising to-morrow morning, but things have changed and unless we can manage to keep 15,000 democrats away from the polls Campbell will be elected. In view of this change in public sentiment I would advise you to hold to your money."

How has the Bee been enabled to secure these facts? some one may ask.

TO LOCATE THE BLAME.

Washington, Oct. 27.—The court of inquiry, Capt. Sicard, president, to ascertain the responsibility for the loss of the U. S. S. Dispatch on Assateague shoals, Va., met at the navy yard here to-day. Lieut. Cowles and Lieut. Mulligan of the Dispatch were present and made statements giving the details of the loss substantially as published.

STOLE A GOLD BRICK.

New Castle, Pa., Oct 27.—William Matson, who stole a gold brick last August from the Wells Fargo Express company at Mohawk, Plumas county, Cal., was captured here to-day. He had sold the brick for $900 in Denver and was traced to this vicinity by Special Agent W. H. Campbell of Buffalo, who placed the matter before Mayor Brown.

CLUB AND SOCIAL.

The Isabella Association Not Refused World's Fair Grounds.

At the last meeting of the Isabella association a newspaper article was read, an interview with a member of Mrs. Palmer's board, and which said that the Isabella association had been refused room on the world's fair grounds for its pavilion. The members of the association here, having taken stock with the expectation that this pavilion would be upon the grounds, and for the use of members, were naturally very indignant. The secretary of the Toledo Isabellas was instructed to write to Chicago and ascertain the facts in the matter. In answer to the letter the following telegram was received this morning:

Hyde Park, Ills.

A. P. Stevens, care Evening Bee:

We have not been refused space for the Isabella pavilion and it will be built. I will write you more fully.

COMBINATION OF ACCIDENTS.

Wapakoneta Has Had a Double Dose of Horrors.

Wapakoneta, O., Oct. 27.—(Special)—At Sante Fe, Sunday, two very serious accidents happened. William Wren was playing ball with some of his neighbors, when one of the boys let his bat fly and hit Wren on the head, crushing in his skull so badly that his life is despared of.

Wren was taken to the office and while his time was taken up with Wren, his two sons, aged 2 and 5 respectively, had got hold of the target gun and began to play with the same. The 5-year old son pulled the trigger. The shot took effect in his younger brother's abdomen, making a very bad flesh wound.

Dr. J. W. Bergen, Petersburg, Ind.:

Dear Sir—It is with pleasure that I testify to the virtue of your Asthma Cure. I had been a sufferer for years, and had almost come to the conclusion that there was no cure for asthma; but your remedy was recommended and I commenced taking it last June, and have not had an attack since, and I feel that the cure is permanent and complete. I hope that all asthmatics will give it a trial, as I firmly believe it is a specific.

THE PARROT.

There was a parrot once that ran
A talking race against a man;
Though often questioned, still the bird
To make the same reply was heard—
It only knew a single word:
"Tiger!"

The man declared he ought to win,
And showed the parrot's owner's sin
In cheating Gotham of a fair
That all the world had wanted there;
The parrot cried, with reason rare,
"Tiger!"

The man's friends shamed the tariff tax,
The billion congress, headsman's ax,
The light-weight dollar, quarantine,
And poor reform's disfigured mien;
Still cried the parrot's poll of green:
"Tiger!"

At last, impatient, all the world
Of men this pungent question hurled
At the crass bird: "What else with that Did you learn from your master, Platt?"
Soft cried the bird, in accents flat:
"Tiger!"

In 1880 the number of cotton mills in the south was 161, with 14,325 looms and 667,854 spindles. By July, 1889, these had increased to 355 mills, with 45,000 looms and 2,031,268 spindles. The profits assessed to the income tax in the city of London during the last 10 years show a remarkable increase. On comparing the totals for the years 1879-80 and 1889-90 there is an increase in the amount of profits of $153,776,415 for the city alone, showing that the amount which it pays for income tax has almost been doubled in a single decade.

In pencil factories pencils are counted by an ingenious apparatus, which takes the form of a number of parallel grooves. Lieut. Verges has just made a remarkable trip on horseback across India, traveling often far from the railroads, where the people see very few white men. He says the peasantry of Bengal were discourteous and exorbitant in their charges. He was often compelled to pay four or five times the price of the articles he needed. Their inhospitality was in marked contrast to the friendliness of the peasantry in other places. In the central provinces every one helped him readily, and in many instances the people declined pay.

The man who is mistaken for game is being shot now in various portions of the country. Tom Wengler, of St. Louis, "gobbled" so naturally that he was shot for a turkey, and Wm. Yet who can say that the cause of humanity suffers by an occasional man's putting himself in the place of a dumb brute and seeing how it feels?

It is well known that a smooth disc of steel driven at a high speed will cut in two a file held to the edge of the disc. The principle does not seem to have been practically used, save in one instance named by Mr. Richards, the well-known engineer, who states that it was employed in the United States armory at Springfield, in preparing a tenon, or reduced section, on the ends of tempered steel ramrods, such as were used in loading the muskets of 25 years ago. The material was hard and could not be cut, so small wheels of iron, about six inches in diameter and one inch thick, were used. They were driven at 6,000 revolutions per minute, and melted or abraded the metal away instantly, at the same time drawing the temper, so that a screw thread could afterward be cut on the end of the tempered rod.

ACTIVITY IN FULTON.

No Let Up in the Democratic Camp.

The Old Republican Stronghold May Slip Over to the Party of Low Taxes.

Fayette, O., Oct. 27.—(Special)—Fulton county presents a queer aspect to the average politician this fall. "Ethereal mildness" reigns. All the candidates are pursuing a "still hunt," apparently. There is very little flourish of tin canes among the McKinley dudes; and the voice of the more enthusiastic republican farmer, who, in former years has held important political discussions with his democratic neighbor over the line fence, has been smothered down by his inward thoughts, contemplating the price of wool.

The farmers are beginning to think, and party ties are beginning to loosen. They begin to see that they have been fooled.

McKinley made a fatal blunder at Ada when he related the "marketing wheat in Buffalo" story. The farmers know that Canada and the United States have the same market for their surplus agricultural product and that neither country imports wheat, except for seed; and to impose a duty on seed wheat would be barbarous for either country to do. On the whole, the tariff question is being thoroughly "thought out."

On the silver question there is also much hard thinking. These are all big questions, but the American voter is accustomed to big questions. A billion dollars is a large sum, and a billion dollar congress is almost a "stunner," but the people are equal to the latter, at least, and will thoroughly master it in due time.

The silver question can be condensed into one question, and the people are cogitating: If the silver dollar is a debased dollar, who made it so?

The interest is greatest in local circles. Dr. Allen, the democratic candidate for representative, is quietly working up his campaign, depending upon the cause which he represents, his personal popularity and qualifications for the office, to commend him to the voters of the county.

He begs no votes, does not humiliate himself in any way, but, of course, counts to "get there." He fully realize that the odds are terrific, but chuckles to think that his opponent is badly scared. His chances for election are increasing every day.

The republicans made a mistake in nominating John C. Rorick for senator. His candidature opened up many old wounds here among his political friends that are too strongly tinctured with his "smartness" to be available for political purposes—except on the wrong side.

COUNCIL BOARD.

Electric Light Assessments on Corner Lots to Stand.

A Petition for Conductors on the Dorr Street Car Line—Oliver Street Sidewalk—Other Business.

All members of the board of councilmen were present at the meeting last evening, but the session was rather quiet, compared to some that have been held recently.

Mr. Aldrecht introduced a petition for the opening of an alley between Noble and Frederick streets. Referred to the street committee.

Mr. Walker presented a lengthy petition from people along Dorr street and vicinity, asking the council to take some action towards compelling the Consolidated Street Railway to return the conductors to Dorr street. This was referred to the railway committee.

Several electric light and sidewalk resolutions were introduced and referred to the proper committees.

A resolution from Mr. Caldwell was adopted to allow the W. & L. E. railway to place a water pipe under Treadwell street, Ironville.

A number of resolutions from the judiciary committee, allowing claims and abatements, were adopted.

Schedules of bills from the committees on claims, judiciary, police, gas, bridges and parks, were ordered placed on the claim ordinance.

The resolution directing the engineer to locate the sidewalk on Oliver street raised something of a hornet's nest, for there was a big lobby on hand opposed to it and they made a vigorous kick. This resolution leaves the sidewalk bed as at first contemplated when the street was improved, and will necessitate the cutting down of a number of shade trees.

Messrs. Taylor and Coleman opposed the resolution, and Mr. Taylor moved that it be referred back to the committee. This was lost by a vote of 13 to 5.

Messrs. Pheatt, Gill, Neuendorf and Tanner spoke in favor of the resolution, and it was finally adopted.

A resolution was adopted abating the assessment on the government building property for the paving of St. Clair street, as it could not be collected under the law from the government.

Business from the board of aldermen was taken up. Mr. Pheatt objected to the resolution directing the fire department to flush sewers, and after a brief discussion the resolution was laid on the table.

Mr. Pheatt also raised objections to the resolution to abate electric light assessments on corner lots so as to make the assessment on these lots the same as on adjoining lots. He thought that the city was too poor to allow any more abatements than possible. The resolution was lost by a vote of 8 to 10.

Other aldermanic business was adopted.

An inventive genius in Brooklyn has patented an apparatus for automatically making tea or coffee. A boiler is hung on a counterbalanced lever controlling a lamp extinguisher, the flame of the lamp heating the water until sufficient steam is generated to cause the water to flow through a pipe having a rose jet, by means of which the boiling water is directed on the ground coffee or tea. The lever then extinguishes the lamp, and in the vacuum the steam is condensed, causing the infused liquid to be drawn back to the boiler ready for use.

WHAT WAS THE MATTER?

Read and See for Yourself.

A popular society lady fainted at one of her receptions. What was the matter? The answer is only too plain. Women have delicate and high-strung nerves, and the many duties of life are too much strain and tension. The result is at first nervousness, then tired, languid feelings, finally ending in sleeplessness, utter weakness, shattered nerves and nervous prostration.

Beware of the first symptoms. If you become nervous, have palpitation, strange faint feelings, sinking at pit of stomach, weak and tired feelings, malara, constipation, use at once DR. GREENE'S NERVURA, the great strengthener of nerves, brain and body. It will give you refreshing sleep, make your nerves strong, invigorate your blood, regulate your bowels. This means perfect health. It is the greatest and best of remedies. Purely vegetable and harmless. Druggists sell it—$1.00.

"DR. GREENE'S NERVURA is a wonderful remedy for nervous prostration, and those terrible tired, weak feelings that make life a burden, almost too great to bear. I feel that I cannot say enough in its praise for what it has done for me. It gives one the most restful sleep, and in fact does all and more than all it claims to do. I wish every poor, tired woman on the face of the earth could be induced to try it for three days; they would then understand its value, and life would not seem so wearisome and undesirable.

IT MAY BE

That you prefer to pay rent for your house than to own one of your own. It may be that you have never taken the time or trouble to figure up what you pay out in rent and how quickly it would pay for a home. Perhaps you don't know how easy it is to become the proud possessor of the "dearest spot on earth." Perhaps you think you must pay all cash when you would buy a home, and if you could not afford to do that you must grovel, and sweat, and dig to litt a burden of a mortgage. These are but suggestions. It may be that you do know it is more pleasureable, profitable and comfortable to live in your own home than in some other person's. It may be that you thought about it and come to the conclusion that you do pay out a great deal of rent, and that it does not take very long to pay for a new house at the same rate. It is quite likely that you know a mortgage is perfectly healthy, and that a house with a mortgage is better than no house at all, and that a mortgage is not a burden at all, but in fact a help. Perhaps the only thing you are not positive about is where to build a home, and it is right here we are of assistance.

OHIO INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Visit Paid by a Toledo Newspaper Man

To the Institution in Lancaster, Fairfield County.

His Observations on the Farm, Together with a Little History—Some of the Promoters of the School.

Among all the beneficent institutions in the state there are none that will compare more favorably than the Boys' Industrial school. Not only is it at the head of Ohio's institutions, but as a reformatory for incorrigible youths, it stands in the front rank when compared with intsitutions of a similar nature, in the entire country.

The Boys' Industrial school has been written of time and again in the public press, and really the subject is apparently threadbare, but there are a few things connected with it that will bear re-mention, and will be of interest to the public. The school is such a power for good and the results are so apparent that it should be a source of pride to every Ohioan.

The Boys' Industrial school is located in Fairfield county, six miles south of the city of Lancaster, in the most picturesque region to be found any place in the state. The site was at first condemned as being entirely too remote for convenience, but this objection has long since been withdrawn, in the face of the eminently superior advantages the site possesses.

The institution is built on an eminence 600 feet higher than the city of Lancaster, and from the summit may be obtained a most beautiful view. The hills on all sides rich in their beautiful October attire, the chestnuts, maples and oaks, covering the slopes and summits, dressed in wonderful autumnal tints of gold and yellow, would furnish a picture such as master limners would love to dwell upon.

From the highest point on the state farm, the hill surrounding the city of Circleville, 40 miles away, may be seen, and the sweep of landscape is quite wide upon every side.

The farm consists of 1,210 acres of ground, the soil of which is diversified. In the valleys wheat, corn and other cereals may be produced, while the slopes and summits are admirably adapted for fruit growing purposes. The rugged planes are covered with vineyards, and these are being extended yeay after year. The orchards are very extensive, andm any peach and other trees capable of bearing small fruits will be planted probably within the next year.

The soil is sandy, and for that matter not of much depth, the entire farm being underlaid with a stratum of red limestone which in several places crops out into irregular but picturesque cliffs. The timber in the valleys and in the hills consists of oak, pine and chestnut, which is not of much value save for adornment.

Hon. James D. Ladd, of Steubenville, Associate Commissioner.

A bit of the history of the institution, a portion of which has never appeared in the public prints, will be appropriate at this point.

The school was primarily designed by Hon. A. Foote, who died at Cleveland last July. The necessary legislation was secured by Mr. Foote in 1854, and Gov. Chase appointed as commissioners to design the plan for the reformatory, select a location, etc., Mr. Foote, James Ladd and Charles Reemelin, of Cincinnati.

These commissioners could not agree upon a plan, and after much discussion, Mr. Reemelin volunteered to visit Europe at his own expense for the purpose of finding something a little better in the line of reformatories than this country possessed at that time.

The philanthropic Cincinnatian proceeded to Europe in the spring of 1856, and remained abroad for several months making a close inspection of institutions for reformation in the old world.

Of his trip let Mr. Reemelin speak. The following is an extract from a letter of recent date, written by him to J. C. Hite, the present efficient superintendent. After detailing his travels at length he says:

I found in Mettrey, France, the very institution that was floating in my mind, in successful operation. I saw that the absence of all circumvallation, and of all prison-like buildings, as well as suspicious watching of the inmates by the officials was the embodiment of the views I had expressed; and yet, there were proceedings which I feared would be objectionable to my colleagues. I saw afterwards my favorable impression of such was confirmed on visiting the institution under the superintendence of Rev. Mr. Werner at Reutlingen in Germany.

Mettrey was on the whole a Catholic institution; that of Reutlingen under the simple rule of a Lutheran clergyman without even a check of a directory on his course. In Mettrey the family system prevailed; it was the model institution of all France as to agriculture and horticulture; in short there was a general economy of a very practical, good character, but all conducted upon methods of administration and other important items, for which we should have to create entirely new ways and means in Ohio, if we should adopt them, as there were really no existing provisions in Ohio for such. The most serious of these I will mention, to-wit: The inmates were under military drill as well as gymnastic exercises under the officers (there called elder brothers) who were, besides being good military men, also cultivated gentlemen, capable of instructing the youths in horticulture and agriculture. Mettrey was under this regime, a self-sustaining institution. Reutlingen was so also.

After much discussion the board agreed to adopt the plan in use at Mettrey, with some modifications, and the family system was therefore chosen. It was decided to build a home where boys might be reformed and educated and not a prison. The law provided for the purchase of 1,000 acres, but after some time the present farm was acquired.

Without entering into a detailed and necessarily tedious narration of the history of the school, it may be said that the buildings have been improved annually, until at this time the institution is composed of the following structures:

The main building, which is 161 feet long with front projection of 60 feet each way, three stories with basement.

The family buildings are named after the rivers of the state with one exception as follows: Ohio, Union, Maumee, Scioto, Hocking, Muskingum, Huron, Miami, Cuyahoga, and Erie; the printing office, the different shops, and a splendid barn just finished.

Hon. John A. Foote, of Cleveland, Associate Commissioner.

The buildings are arranged in a semicircle, around the main building, with the exception of the Ohio, which is separate from the other buildings.

It may be explained here that the inmates of the school are divided into families. Each family is in charge of an officer called the Elder Brother, who cares for the boys, and sees that the rules are not infracted upon. The family buildings are two stories with basement. The first floor is used for school room and a compartment is allotted to the use of the elder brother and his family. The upper story is used for dormitory purposes.

There is no wall about the place, and people who visit the school wonder that there are so few escapes, but considerable vigilance is exercised all the time to prevent any of the inmates from getting away. The word prison is not used about the school, and the very idea of confinement is dimissed as much as possible from the minds of the boys.

There is really but little duress at the reformatory, if the boy obeys the rules. There is no lockup and no flogging, and the punishments are inflicted by lengthening the time.

The system of merits and demerits has been in use since 1885. When a boy is committed to the school he is given as many demerits as the enormity of his offense justifies. For manslaughter, highway robbery, arson and like offenses he is given 7,000 demerits. Assault and battery, embezzlement over $35, burglary, etc., 5,000 demerits, and for the minor offenses 4,000 demerits.

The standard for good deportment is 10 merits per day. In addition, if the boy is faithful in every way, he is given credit at the end of the month with 10 extra merits. If he has a perfect record for three successive months, he receives 300 extra merits. On this basis so soon as he shall have cancelled his demerits, he is entitled to go home on leave for four months, and if he does right he may have his card renewed every four months until he is 21 years of age.

The aim is to give every boy at least a common school education, and to this end half of each day is devoted to such purpose. The boys who go to school in the afternoon, and vice versa.

The school has an excellent literary society. The Philomathean, and debates and other exercises take place every week. The newspaper published by the school is a creditable sheet, and the boys contribute matter to its columns. It has been the means of doing much good, and is one of the permanent features of the establishment.

The discipline of the institution under Hon. J. C. Hill, the present superintendent, is excellent. He has the confidence of the boys, and they respect him to a large degree. To illustrate, the following incident is mentioned:

Last Wednesday was the annual "Chestnut day" at the school, that is the boys were permitted to roam in the woods, on the hills and in the hollows, in search of chestnuts which are plentiful on the farm. The officers made no effort to guard the lads and they went unmolested. Here and there officers might be seen lying on the grass in the woods, while boys could be seen across the valleys a mile away having their sport undisturbed.

A person might say, "Why, how many ran away?"

When the whistle sounded the recall, not a boy was missing, and after it is considered that 618 of them were allowed to enjoy themselves in the woods and thickets simply on their word that they would not attempt to escape, volumes are spoken for the admirable discipline of the place.

The institution is in excellent condition. During the past summer 1,500 bushels of potatoes, 450 bushels of wheat, 300 bushels of oats, 175 bushels of beans, 2,000 bushels of apples, 75 bushels of strawberries, 150 bushels of raspberries, 150 bushels of blackberries, 75 bushels of pears, 50 bushels of cherries, 300 bushels of corn, 125 head of fat hogs, 10 head of young cattle, and thousands of dollars worth of garden truck were raised on the farm. Forty acres of wheat and 17 acres of clover have been sown, 2 1-2 miles of new fence has been built. Over 100 acres of ground have been grubbed and put in condition for cultivation, a new barn has been built, and a new green house is now under process of construction.

Last year the net per capita cost to the state, was $93.03, as against $98.92 the previous year. This year the per capita will be reduced to at least $90, if not even lower than that.

The unfortunate boys who are taken care of there are much better off than thousands in Ohio who are permitted to run about as they please. They have plenty of the best of food to eat, nice clean beds to sleep in, the best of care, and, best of all, are taught how to become useful men instead of worthless vagabonds.

There is no institution in the state that is productive of more good than the Boy's Industrial School, and the only thing to be regretted is the fact that politics is allowed to enter these institutions, and keep the place in the midst of a turmoil which is detrimental to the discipline and to the inmates at the same time. The sooner the ruthless hand of partisan politics is barred from the beneficent institutions of Ohio, the sooner may their actual purpose be carried out.

It is astonishing to see how soon a boy will accept the order of affairs at the school, after being taken there. He has prison in his mind on his way there, and horrid visions of awful floggings, the dungeon and starvation flit through his mind. How different he finds things? Instead of a prison, almost absolute freedom, instead of flogging perfect kindness, and instead of starvation, the best of food and plenty of it.

The writer stopped one little fellow and said:

"My boy, how do you get along?"

"First rate," was the reply.

"Do you get plenty to eat?"

"Yes, sir, more than we know what to do with."

"Are you treated kindly here by everybody?"

"You bet we are," was the urchin's reply as he started to walk away. The boy was only a midget, and looked to be about nine years old. He had a wonderful bright appearance and the soliloquy was "that boy never did anything bad."

"Why are you here?" was the question put to the innocent looking little chap.

"Nothin' much. Stole a horse and buggy and $40."

Inquiry developed the fact that the boy is not quite ten years old.

A visit to the Boy's Industrial Home is very instructive and has about it many pleasing features, but none more so than the knowledge of the fact that the inmates are treated kindly and are daily growing into that condition which promises fruitfulmanhood. H.

HONORABLE SUCCESSFUL TREATMENT

Established 1851.
DR. F. D. CLARKE, Merrill Block, Cor. Woodward & Jefferson Ave., Detroit, Mich.

No Money Required of Responsible Parties to Commence Treatment.
DOCTORS FRANCE AND OTTMAN,
Formerly of New York, now of the France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, has decided to visit
TOLEDO, WEDNESDAY, OCTOBER 28.
Consultation and Examination Free and Strictly Confidential in the Private Parlor of the Hotel from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m. one day only.

The Doctors describe the different diseases better than the sick can themselves. It is a wonderful gift for any one to possess. Their diagnostic powers have created wonders throughout the country.

The France Medical and Surgical Institute of Columbus, Ohio is the only Medical institute in the state incorporated with a capital of $50,000.

FRANCE MEDICAL AND SURGICAL INSTITUTE,
38 & 40 W. Gay St., one block N. of State House, Columbus, O. Incorporated, 1886. Capital, $300,000.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, of New York, the well known and successful Specialists in Chronic Diseases and Diseases of the Eye and Ear, on account of their large practice in Ohio, have established the FRANCE MEDICAL INSTITUTE, where all forms of Chronic, Nervous and Private Diseases will be successfully treated on the most Scientific principles. They are ably assisted by a full corps of eminent Physicians and Surgeons, each one being a well known specialist in his profession.

CANCER positively cured without pain or use of the knife, by a new method.

IMPORTANT TO LADIES.—DR. FRANCE, after years of experience, has discovered the greatest cure known for all diseases peculiar to the sex. Female diseases positively cured by the new remedy, OLIVE BLOSSOM. The cure is effected by home treatment. Entirely harmless and easily applied. Consultation Free and Strictly Confidential. Correspondence promptly answered.

YOUNG MEN.—Who have become victims of solitary vice, that dreadful and destructive habit, which annually sweeps to an untimely grave thousands of young men of exalted talent and brilliant intellect, may call with confidence.

DRS. FRANCE AND OTTMAN, after years of experience, have discovered the greatest cure known for weakness in the back and limbs, involuntary discharges, impotency, general debility, nervousness, langour, confusion of ideas, palpitation of the heart, timidity, trembling, dimness of sight, or giddiness, diseases of the head, throat, nose, or skin, affections of the liver, lungs, stomach, or bowels—those terrible disorders arising from the solitary vice of youth—and secret practices, blighting their most radiant hopes or anticipations, rendering marriage impossible. Take one candid thought before it is too late. A week or month may place your case beyond the reach of hope. Our method of treatment will speedily and permanently cure the most obstinate case, and absolutely restore perfect manhood.

TO MIDDLE-AGED MEN.—There are many from the age of 30 to 60 who are troubled with frequent evacuations of the bladder, often accompanied by a slight burning or smarting sensation, weakening the system in a manner the patient cannot account for. On examination of the urinary deposits, a ropy sediment will be found, or the color will be a thin or milish hue. There are many men who die of this difficulty, ignorant of the cause, which is a second stage of seminal weakness. We will guarantee a perfect cure in all such cases, and a healthy restoration of the genito-urinary organs.

DISEASES OF WOMEN.—We have a special department, thoroughly organized, and devoted exclusively to the treatment of diseases of women. Every case consulting our specialists, whether by letter or in person, is given the most careful and considerate attention. Important cases, and we get few which have not baffled the skill of all the home physicians) have the benefit of a full council of skilled specialists. In treatment of diseases peculiar to females, our success has been marked, over two-thirds of our patients being ladies, old, young, married, single, rich and poor. Our method is entirely free from objectionable features of the general practice, namely, "Local treatment." We seldom find it necessary. We prepare remedies, constitutional and local, as the case demands, and instruct ladies how to treat themselves.

MARRIAGE.—Married persons, or young men contemplating marriage, aware of physical weakness, loss of procreative powers, impotency, or any other disqualification, speedily restored.

PRIVATE DISEASES.—Blood Poison, Venereal Taint, Gleet, Stricture, Seminal Emissions, Loss of Sexual Power, Weakness of Sexual Organs, Want of Desire in Male or Female, whether from imprudent habits of youth or sexual habits of mature years, or any cause that debilitates the sexual function, speedily and permanently cured. Consultation free and strictly confidential. Absolute cures guaranteed. Medicines sent free from observation to all parts of the United States.

EPILEPSY, OR FITS.—Positively cured by a new and never-failing method. Testimonials furnished.

FREE EXAMINATION OF THE URINE.—Each person applying for medical treatment should send or bring from 2 to 4 ounces of urine (that passed first in the morning preferred), which will receive a careful chemical and microscopical examination, and if requested a written analysis will be given.

Persons ruined in health by unlearned pretenders, who keep trifling with them month after month, giving poisonous and injurious compounds, should apply immediately. Delays are dangerous.

WONDERFUL CURES Perfected in old cases which have been neglected or unskillfully treated. No experiments or failures. Parties treated by mail or express, but where possible, personal consultation is preferred. Curable cases guaranteed. No risks incurred.

Cases and correspondence confidential. Treatment sent C. O. D. to any part of U. S. List of 130 questions free. Address, with postage, DR. FRANCE, Nos. 38 and 40 W. Gay St., Columbus, O.

WHAT NEXT TO EXPECT?

Stories of Terrible Cruelty in New York City.

Patients in the Asylums Horribly Treated.

Two Men Bound to Their Beds Beaten by the Nurses, and When Released Were Found to be Dead.

New York, Oct. 27.—The Herald this morning publishes a shocking story of cruelties said to have been imposed on patients of the Presbyterian hospital, one of the most prominent places of the kind in the city, by the nurses of that institution.

Lawyer Reimensnyder, of Lancaster, Pa., who was recently discharged from the hospital, alleges that he has seen the sick and dying beaten, bound and cursed during his stay at the place.

The punishment was usually inflicted by the nurses for restlessness on the part of the patients.

In the statement made by Mr. Reimensnyder he relates the cases of two men, suffering from delirium tremens, who were bound to their cots and who, when unbound, were found to be dead.

Mr. Reimensnyder did not himself observe these two cases, but other patients told him of the occurrences.

Other patients visited by the Herald reporter confirmed the stories of cruelty. The officials say they will make an investigation.

IN TRADING CIRCLES

Both at Our Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles.

London wheat market firmly held. Weather clear and cold. Liverpool wheat steady and unchanged. Corn firm and higher.

The receipts of wheat at seven principle western points to-day are 1,520,236 bu, compared with 642,906 bu on the same day last year.

The imports into the United Kingdom for the week were 2,464,000 bu of wheat and 159,000 bbls of flour, equal to 3,179,000 bu of wheat, and 600,000 bu of corn.

The quantity of flour and wheat on ocean passage increased last week 2,480,000 bus. Corn decreased 56,000 bus.

Our table herein of available wheat and corn shows an increase of 6,058,310 bus wheat, and a decrease of 1,978,888 bus corn.

Our Exports.

Our table herein of exports and imports for September and for a year ending 30th, 1891 and 1890 gives the exports in September $21,083,901 in excess of imports, and for the year $98,275,866 in excess of imports.

And now comes a report from Western Kansas that "unthreshed wheat in that section is damaged from 25 to 50 per cent. on account of wet weather and poor shocking. The grain has already commenced to grow, and many of the stacks are green. A good deal of wheat still remains in the shock. This is ruined.

The receipts of wheat to-day at several principal western points are 997,330 bu in excess of the corresponding Tuesday in 1890.

The export clearances yesterday from four Atlantic ports were 368,234 bu of wheat and flour to an aggregate of 475,000 bu. Exports of corn were 55,105 bu.

English markets as reported herein are steady and firm, with quotations unchanged.

Increase in the Wheat Supplies.

Our table herein of available wheat shows an increase on the week of 6,085,000 bu., which is made up by 3,605,000 bu. increase in our visible supply and 2,480,000 bu. increase in ocean passage. The latter increase is 2,016,000 bu. to the United Kingdom, and 464,000 bu. to the continent. This aggregate increase will be still further increased by Bradstreet's report to-morrow. The natural man, walking by sight, would naturally expect the above features to be expressed in lower markets for wheat on this side, but that is not the way of this wicked world and the wicked wheat dealers in New York and of the wheat market generally. The deal is not made that way, and when the symptoms indicate weakness then it is strong.

New York speculators seem to be the hustlers this year, and according to the Chicago Tribune they have made the Chicago boys tired by a new system of tictacs, or tactics, and to-day they led off on a substantial advance in prices which Chicago followed slowly and sullenly, but followed.

Besides the features of increase above referred to, the Liverpool Corn Trade News says "the exports to the United Kingdom last week were 4,680,000 bu, and to the Continent 5,630,000 bu, aggregate 10,310,000 bu, against the estimated wants of 7,000,000 bu.

Liverpool Quotations.

By reference to our report of Liverpool market herein, it will be seen that red winter wheat, New York standard, is quoted at 8s 4d to 8s 4 1-2d, and that No. 2 spring, American seaboard inspection, is quoted at 8s 6d. The difference in these two grades is 1.80 cents per bu. A month ago the difference was 14c. "A little leaven leaveneth the whole lump."

The wheat market on this side, after 12 o'clock began to weaken, and before the close the advance heretofore noted was lost and 1-4@3-8c besides.

Corn has been very strong again, and closed higher, but with a part of the advance lost.

In New York October wheat closed 3-8c and December 1-4c lower. October corn 3 1-2c and November 1 1-2c higher. October oats 1-8c lower.

In Chicago December wheat closed 3-8c lower. October corn 1 1-4c, and November 1 1-4c higher. November oats 1-8c better.

Berlin closed 3-4 marks lower. Liverpool futures easier. Corn decidedly higher.

In Toledo—The trading in wheat futures has been only moderately active. Prices did not improve here in the ratio of other markets, as our dealers are also a little shy of these New York bulges. At one time the price was 3-4c above yesterday's closing, but became weak and closed a shade lower. On the call May wheat sold at $1 04 3-4. After the call December sold at 98 1-4c to 98 1-8c, and closed at 98 1-4, a loss of 1-8c. May sold at $1 04 5-8 to $1 05 1-8 and closed at $1 04 1-4, a loss of 1-8c. January sold at $1 00.

Cash wheat was not in active demand, and the sales were light, closing 1-4c lower. No. 2 soft sold at 96 1-4c to 1-2c and closed at 1-4c. No. 3 soft at 93c to 93 1-2c. No. 4 soft at 81 3-4c. Rejected No. 1 85c L. S. No. 2 at 78c. No. 2 hard at 93 1-2c. No. 3 hard at 87c. No. 1 white, 95c. No. 2 at 93c.

Corn—nothing doing. Held higher. Oats—no sales. No. 2 about 30 1-2c. Rye decidedly higher. No. 2 at 90c to 92c. Nov. at 92c.

Clover Seed—Firm and Dec. was a shade higher at the close. Prime for cash at $4 55; Oct. $4 55; Dec. $4 62 1-2; January at $4 65. No. 2 at $4 20 to $4 55.

New York, Oct. 27—Money 3 per cent. Exchange steady; posted rates, 481 1-2@484 1-2; actual rates, 480 3-4@481 for 60 days and 483 1-2@483 3-4 for demand.

Governments steady; currency 6s, 111 bid; 4s coupon, 116 7-8 bid; extended 2s registered, 100 bid.

The trading in the stock market this morning was still on a limited scale. The principal trading was in St. Paul, Atchison, Chicago gas, Omaha preferred and L. E. and W. The opening was firm with prices fractionally higher in sympathy with a firm and higher market for American securities abroad. The first prices were 1-8 to 2-8 per cent. higher than those of last evening but this strength did not last and the early advance was soon lost, except in the case of Chicago gas, which continued strong and made a further fractional advance. The market continued weak and prices declined steadily up to 11 o'clock. Omaha preferred fell 1 per cent. to 93 3-4 and Lake Erie and Western preferred 1 3-4 to 63@63 1-2. The decline in the others was only slight. Delaware and Hudson was the feature of the second hour. It was freely hammered by the bears and fell rapidly from 132 1-4 to 130, causing a further shrinkage in prices for the general market. The noon figures were about the lowest of the day. The decline at that hour compared with yesterday's figures ranged from 1-8 to 2 1-2 per cent. At this writing the market is dull. The sales for the morning amounted to 114,100 shares.

Corn was active with prices very strong throughout the morning. Values at noon were 1 1-2c higher; No. 2 mixed cash, 73; October, 72; November, 66 1-4; December, 58 1-4. Oats dull but steady; No. 2 mixed cash, 36 1-2@37; November and December, 36 1-2. Rye fairly active and firm; No. 2 western, 98 1-4; January, $1 01. Barley easier; No. 2 Milwaukee, 70; Canada, 85@1 00, according to quality. Molasses quiet; New Orleans ordinary, 15@17. Sugar, refined, moderately active and steady; cutloaf and crdshed, 5 1-8; powdered, 4 1-2; granulated, 4 1-4@4 3-8. Coffee dull; fair rio cargoes, 15 1-2. Rice nominal. RAILROAD AFFAIRS.

The Brotherhood of Railway Conductors

Will Soon Be a Thing of the Past—Various Items of News to the Railway Men of Toledo and Vicinity.

A few days more and the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors will exist in memory only. Few labor organizations grew so popular and strong in such short time. The membership doubled itself in one year, as reports showed at the last annual meeting held in this city last fall. Grand Conductor Howard and assistant have left the city, and after closing up the business on hand, Secretary Carr will depart.

In speaking of the union of the two organizations, Secretary Carr said to a Bee this morning:

"It was a wise step in the interest of the one cause which both organizations strived to maintain, the protection of railway conductors. All members of both organizations are conductors performing the same duties and having the same interest at stake. Under these circumstances the existing strife was useless, nothing to gain and all to lose. The struggle was a menace to the principles and cause we both advocated, a fight within our own ranks.

"The officials of both organizations realized the danger of the situation, and the necessity of a complete organization, but were at a loss just how to bring about a settlement and union.

"At their last meeting the O. R. C. practically adopted our constitution, which was a beginning of the end.

"We in turn concluded to make concessions, and if possible, end the fruitless fight, and join hands with the order, in co-operation in the good cause which we all represent.

"We are younger in years, fewer in number, and on the advice of our friends we resolved to make overtures to the other side. We surrendered everything to them with the express understanding that they use our franchise in the supreme council of the United Order of Railway Employes. Grand Chief Clark, of the order, pledged himself to use his influence at the next annual convention to have the order adopt the name of Brotherhood of Railway Conductors of America.

"The grand officers of the brotherhood are putting forth every effort in their power to bring about an amicable feeling among the members."

The Last Act.

The following circular has been issued by the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors relative to closing up the business of the old order:

The Grand Office of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors at Toledo, Ohio, will be closed by November 1st next; and all bills, claims and accounts, together with the books of the Brotherhood, will be sent to the chairman of the executive board, G. W. Lovejoy, 121 South Thirteenth street, Terre Haute, Ind., who will thereafter levy any necessary assessments, receive all monies, pay all claims, and attend to all unfinished business incident to the closing up of the affairs of the Brotherhood. It is earnestly hoped that each and every brother will cheerfully respond to any and all calls made by Brother Lovejoy, and will manifest an interest and pride in assisting him to preserve the good name and record of the Brotherhood to a finish. Brother Lovejoy's services in the foregoing will be rendered gratis.

Issued by order of the executive board.

G. W. HOWARD, G. C. C.

Attest: D. J. CARR, G. S. & T.

Four Important Meetings.

Next week will occur four very important railroad meetings at Chicago.

On Tuesday the general passenger agents of the Central Traffic association interested in rates from Chicago to the Ohio river, will meet.

On Wednesday will occur the regular Central Traffic meeting.

The next day a general meeting of all the roads in the Central Traffic territory will be held.

On Friday a meeting of the Columbian passenger committee will be held. Each road entering Chicago will be represented, and the object of the meeting is to consummate a complete organization.

Must Sign Their Own Orders.

Superintendent A. G. Wells, of the Indianapolis division of the Big Four, has adopted strong measures to put a stop to the practice of railroad conductors receiving and signing orders for himself and engineer, in vogue on so many roads. Each one must now sign his own train order.

Toledo Passenger Meeting.

The Toledo passenger committee of the Central Traffic association is in session at the Boody house this afternoon. About the only business of any consequence under discussion, is the adoption of a uniform rate sheet.

Worked His Way Up.

Superintendent Hill of the Lake Erie & Western has tendered his resignation, to take effect as soon as his successor is appointed.

Mr. Hill began the successful career which he is about to close, as fireman on the Michigan Central, when 17 years old, in 1858 from which he gradually worked himself to the present position which he now resigns.

Cinders Here and There.

W. J. Roberts has been appointed agent of the Lake Shore at Reno, Pa., to take effect to-day.

The brick, sand and stone committees of the Central Traffic association are in session at Columbus to-day.

The conductors of the Lake Shore have been instructed to run trains through Port Clinton at 10 miles an hour regardless of the ordinance prohibiting the rate of speed. There is some fun already.

The statement that W. H. Black is to be appointed general superintendent of the Columbus and Hocking Valley road on the retirement of C. H. Rockwell, to go with the Chicago and Eastern Illinois is officially denied.

STRICKEN WITH PARALYSIS.

George Carney, night detective at the Union depot, was stricken with paralysis about 8 o'clock this morning, and his life is despaired of. He is a well-known Toledoan.

DIED.

O'BRIEN—Monday, Oct. 26, 1891, at 10:25 a. m., Jeremiah O'Brien, aged 53 years.

Funeral from St. Patrick's church Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock.

SHAKEN BY AN EXPLOSION

Disastrous Blaze in Louisville Last Night.

Half a Million Dollars Damage Caused.

A Boiler Explosion Started a Conflagration which Puzzled the Fire Department to Handle.

Louisville, Oct. 27.—By a boiler explosion here one man was killed, several persons injured and nearly half a million dollars' worth of property destroyed.

At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Wm. R. Adams, a fireman at the electric light plant of the Louisville Gas company, was throwing coal in the furnace when one of the nest of seven boilers let go.

The shock in the vicinity was like an earthquake. Adams was thrown to the ground with terrific force, and received such internal injuries that he will die.

The shed in which the boilers were located was completely demolished, and pieces of iron and of timber and showers of red-hot coals were thrown in every direction.

A great mass of iron and a deluge of burning coals was thrown across a narrow alley into the rear of Kaufmann & Strauss' big retail dry goods store, and the wall of the store was carried away.

Half a dozen clerks were gathered about the bookkeeper at the back of the store. With the bookkeeper, Solomon Dreyfus, they were caught in the wreckage, but it is believed all escaped alive. Dreyfus was seriously injured, but not dangerously. Carrie Dinkelspiel, Hattie Ennis and Lena Sickles were slightly injured.

In a moment apparently the whole building was in flames. The weather has been very dry for two weeks, and the wreckage and goods burned like tinder. An alarm of fire was turned in from the automatic fire box in the Courier-Journal building, and the department was quickly at work. The wrecked building was at once beyond control. Attention was turned to saving the Courier-Journal building, two doors north, and the Polytechnic library building, two numbers south.

The water tower was manned and the hose in the Courier-Journal was attached and turned through the side and rear of the building, and 14 fire engines put in position and set to playing on the flames.

With all this force it was half an hour before the flames gave way and an hour before they were under control. At one time it seemed the Courier-Journal would certainly be burned. The few printers who were in the composing room left, and reporters and editors who were on duty gathered their valuables and prepared to escape, most of them actually leaving. But the wind was from the north and carried the heat in the opposite direction.

By strenuous efforts the polytechnic building, on the south, was saved with heavy damage from water to the books, pictures and other art collections.

The fire caught in and burnt out the two upper floors of J. V. Escott & Sons, dealers in pictures, fine mirrors, wall paper, photographers' supplies and the two lower floors were flooded with water till hardly anything was saved.

On the south Leveron's confectionery and Porter's millinery store were slightly damaged. The losses as near as can now be learned are about as follows:

Kaufman, Strauss & Co., retail dry goods, stock $30,000, nearly covered by insurance. Bamberger, Bloom & Co., owners of building, $80,000; insured. J. V. Escott & Sons, fine woodwork and supplies, $30,000; insured. Polytechnic library, building, books, etc., $100,000; partly insured. Louisville Gas Co., $7,500; covered by insurance. Leveron, confectioners, $500; insured. Porter, millinery, $250; insured.

William Wilsher, engineer at the electric light boilers, was with Curt Dawson, dynamo tender, in a room adjoining the boilers, and they barely escaped. He says he had on only 100 pounds of steam, while he was allowed 120. He thinks some part of the boiler was displaced by the heavy work it was doing and the explosion resulted from it.

BURNED AT THE STAKE.

Terrible Vengeance on a Negro Murderer.

Chained to a Tree and a Torch Applied to the Pile of Wood that Had Been Placed at His Feet.

Queen City, Texas, Oct. 27.—The negro Lee Green, who murdered the family of Farmer Lowe, was arrested near Kildare, and hurried to jail at Linden.

A crowd appeared at the jail at 5 o'clock yesterday morning and demanded the keys from the sheriff's wife, who was forced to deliver them.

The determined men who composed the party, took Green from jail and locked the door and delivered the keys back to Mrs. Lanier, the sheriff's wife.

The sheriff was absent with a posse hunting the negro. They took him to the scene of the tragedy and turned him over to the husband of the murdered woman, who obtained a full confession from him.

Green acknowledged that he did the deed for the money—$60—and killed the family to avoid detection.

He at first implicated three other negroes but finally said no one aided him, but another negro shared in the gain. The last mentioned negro is in custody, awaiting further developments.

All day long men from the adjoining counties, as well as from all parts of this, continued to arrive at Mr. Lowe's farm. At 2:30 o'clock a trace chain was placed about Greene's neck and fastened to a tree so as to hold him in a standing position.

At this stage of the proceedings 46 negro men piled fagots high up around him, and an old negress touched the match to it, and in a few minutes his soul passed into eternity, only 56 hours after those of his victims.

The crowd numbered from 500 to 1,000, both blacks and whites. Mrs. Lowe and children were buried side by side in a common grave. The other child is doing well and is out of danger.

Gentlemen: Confirming the following message sent you by wire this morning: "There is no Brewers' Union here. We employ union men in our other different departments. Will write," we wish to say that while the brewers proper have no union here, many of our employes, such as carpenters, masons, millwrights, steamfitters, painters, etc., belong to regular unions in their respective trades, and we have no objections whatever to organized labor. We pay union wages, work union hours, and the most harmonious and friendly feelings exist between our men and ourselves. Our employes all appear to be perfectly satisfied and we do not anticipate trouble from any quarter.

Respectfully yours.

AN APPEAL FOR A STOVE.

Interesting Meeting of Woodbridge W. C. T. U. Yesterday Afternoon.

Woodbridge W. C. T. U. met yesterday afternoon with Mrs. J. K. Deppen, 1131 Erie street. There were present the president, Mrs. W. R. Jones, the secretary, Mrs. Affie Hitchens, Mrs. Dr. Leighton, Mesdames Nettie Plummer, J. W. Callard, Milton Churchill, J. J. Freeman, J. N. Stevens, Maggie Turner, J. H. Van Ornum and others.

The case of the poor family for whom this union is caring was reported upon. It seems work has been found for the man, and the wants of the family are very well provided for, for the present, except that a stove is very much needed. The family has only one, and that is without legs and with a broken back. The Bee is asked to say that if any benevolently disposed person has an old kitchen stove, not altogether worn out, to give away, the ladies of the union will gladly send for it, for this worthy family. Notice should be sent to the president of the union, Mrs. W. R. Jones, 722 Bush street.

The question of school suffrage was discussed, and an explanation of the reasons why the W. T. C. U. advocates it was given. The ladies expected to have school suffrage petitions to give out, but they had not been sent.

The question was mooted of having Mrs. Lida Romick, of Delaware, O., an evangelist and regularly ordained clergyman in the Friends' faith, conduct a series of meetings in Toledo for a week, under auspices of this union.

The matter was left in the hands of the president and of a committee representing three churches who will see what arrangements can be made for securing churches for these services. The committee consists of Mrs. J. J. Freeman for the First Baptist church, Mrs. Milton Churchill, St. John's M. E. church, and Mrs. J. H. Van Ornum, Westminster church. Mrs. Romick led the devotional exercises at several sessions of the W. C. T. U. during the meetings in this city. The receipts of the meeting were $7.15. The next meeting will be held on Monday afternoon, November 9, with Mrs. J. J. Freeman, 2022 Collingwood avenue. The meeting is called for 2 o'clock. Members will note the change in time.

SUCCESSFUL CONCERT.

For the Benefit of St. Mark's Ladies' Aid Society.

Leland's big art store was last evening transformed into a beautiful concert hall, and a large and select audience was present to listen to the concert given for the benefit of the Ladies' Aid society of St. Mark's church. The store room was filled with seats, and at the rear a spacious stage was erected and tastily decorated with flowers and potted plants.

The entertainment was under the direct supervision of Mrs. E. B. Ensworth and Mrs. E. P. Leland, and was a decided success in every respect.

The best Toledo talent participated in the program, which was just of a comfortable length. Many of the numbers received hearty encores.

"JUGGLERS."

A great many people have an antipathy against traveling physicians, but Drs. France & Ottman, of the France Medical Institute, who have visited your city for the past year, cannot be classed with the numerous traveling doctors who make a visit to a town and never return. They make regular and continued visits so long as their patients require their services.

The doctors, by their courteous manner and candid dealing with their patients, have secured a good practice here, and are succeeding well in bringing relief to the afflicted, where so many pretenders have failed. The doctors came well recommended as physicians of true merit, and gentlemen of high moral worth, ever ready and prompt to fulfill their obligations, setting a noble example to the many wandering jugglers calling themselves doctors. Those wishing to consult the best skilled specialists of the country should improve the opportunity.

Drs. France & Ottman, formerly of New York, now of The France Medical and Surgical Institute, Columbus, Ohio, by request of many friends and patients, have decided to visit Toledo, Wednesday, October 28. Consultation and examination free and strictly confidential in the private parlor of the Burnett House, from 10 a. m. to 9 p. m., one day only.
